Buy Before They Go Up
Well, we told you it was time you got a threshing machine for your mantel piece, and now we have one for sale in the Classified Kol.

The threshing machine, it will soon be no more
With its harvest-time rattle and rumbling roar
Where we pitched in in front and it came out behind
A bright cloud of gold that was blown in the wind;
And those old threshing dinners—they'll soon be gone by
With six kinds of chicken and ten kinds of pie—
When I squared myself off to get outside a snack,
You pitch better than I can.

Excuse us, folks while we lay down our guitar and git our shotgun—there's another one of Alf George's combine salesmen comin'.

'ROUND ABOUT BUCHANAN

3 Spuds to the Pound
H. Ropp, resident of Berrien street, is among the early-potatoes-by-the-fourth-of-Julyers, of whom there are seldom very many here. He planted early Ohio and Irish Cobblers the day before Good Friday. Last week he dug several hills, finding 5 and 6 good sized tubers to a hill. Three potatoes weighed a pound.

Berrien County Chinese Relief Quota is $500

Some time ago the president asked the American Red Cross to appeal to the people of this country for a voluntary gift of $1,000, 00 for civilian relief in China.

The amount asked from Berrien County is $500.00 and the Berrien County Red Cross will be glad to accept any money you wish to give for this appealing purpose. The American Red Cross promises that every cent of the money so contributed will be used directly for food and medical supplies for the women and children and old men of China, and that none of it will be used for expenses or for war purposes.

When the people of China, impoverished as they are, heard of the floods in this country three years ago in the East and two years ago in the Ohio River Valley they, without any appeal or request from this country, sent through the Chinese Red Cross to the American Red Cross $50,000 and $100,000 respectively. Surely $1,000,000 is little enough for the American People to send through their Red Cross to the people of China, and that none of it will be used for expenses or for war purposes.

Over 500 Red Cross Chapters have already reached or exceeded their goal. The following voluntary contributions have already been received by the Berrien County Chapter.

Aha-Greek-American Society, $10.00; Benton Harbor-St. Joseph, $10.00; P. T. A.-Fair Plain School, $10.00; Mrs. Nello Sweet, Harbert, $10.00; Wm. A. Vawter, II, Benton Harbor, $10.00.

The mayor and city councilmen and Post went to St. Charles, Ill., today to inspect a new plant there, with a view to determining whether it might be a suitable and economical one for Buchanan.

Crops on Lower Ground Suffer

New Gravel Road Past Oak
Forest School Washed
Out

Extensive damage was done to field crops on low ground or on hillsides in the Buchanan district in the heavy rain that visited this section between midnight and 3 a. m. Friday, during which time a fall of 2.34 inches was recorded at the Indiana & Michigan Electric company at its Buchanan power plant.

Damage was especially heavy in the low-lying fields of mint, corn and truck north of Glendora, where large acreages laid under water several days, and erosion was heavy on slopes. Inability of drains to carry off the heavy flow caused more damage. The Glendora stone road was flooded west of the Jess Boyle farm so that Clark Equipment employees had difficulty in negotiating passage. The old Galien road was also under water in low places.

Damage was heavier on the dirt and gravel roads, about 50 feet of the new gravel road from Baker-town past the Oak Forest school washing out. A stone culvert on the dirt road between the Dunbar and Earl Beck farms northwest of Buchanan washed out.

Prominent Resident Clear Lake Woods Dies

James J. Nejd, Whiting, Ind., road contractor and member of the Indiana state senate for twelve years, died Sunday in the Englewood hospital after a long illness.

Nejd had made his home part time at Clear Lake for two years and was financially interested in Clear Lake Woods. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at the Schlarf funeral home at 1620 Indianapolis boulevard, Chicago, a number from Clear Lake attending.

The following account of his life was taken from a Chicago paper: Coming to the United States from Bohemia, Nejd's life was a success story of the rise of an immigrant boy to wealth and power.

He was actually governor of Indiana for six weeks in the Fall of 1924 when Acting Governor Emmett Branch, who had succeeded Governor W. T. McCray, was ill. Nejd, by reason of his position as president of the Senate, was head of the state government.

of J. A. White and
Frank Habicht

The annual school election for Fractional District No. 1, Buchanan, will be held in the high school auditorium Monday, July 11, beginning at 8 p. m.

Chief business will be to elect officers to fill the expired terms of J. A. White and Frank Habicht, and to hear the financial report of Treasurer J. A. White on the school business of the past year.

Financial affairs of the district are in excellent conditions, a good surplus having made it possible to reduce the district tax rate from 8 to 7 mills for the coming year. This cut was made in the face of probable reductions in income from the state aid fund.

Hollywood Presents Bill Rogers, Husking Champion July 13-14

Buchanan farmers will find a double interest in the Hollywood program on Wednesday and Thursday evening, July 13 and 14 in the presentation of Will Rogers in "Life Begins at Forty" and in the showing of the national corn husking contest, in an evening designed to appeal especially to farmers of the Buchanan district.

The 14th National Corn Husking Contest drew a crowd estimated from 100,000 to 120,000 visitors. Only four American sporting events have ever drawn more than 110,000 spectators—two prize fights, one Army-Navy football game, and one Indianapolis automobile race.

The contest was held on the 400-acre farm of Weber Brothers in Saline county, Missouri.

See the field, the parade, the crowd, 14 of the 20 contestants in actual action in the field and the new champion, Ray Hanson; likewise views of the Calvert mule and tractor show which was held on the preceding day. In spite of the inclement weather conditions this picture is one of the finest and most complete ever filmed on the subject. See the contest from a "ringside" seat in comfort at the Hollywood theatre.

Dayton Misses A Respected Citizen

Later he worked for the Clark Equipment Co. for several years.

For several years lately he had been working at odd jobs. He had been a member of the I. W. of A. camp in Dayton since 1899 and in 1907 he became a member of the I. O. O. F. also in Dayton. A Friend.

THE TAIL OF THE BIG TOWN KITE

Recently a group were debating whether local interest could be aroused in a talk by a speaker of repute on international affairs.

Said one woman: "The trouble is that people in Buchanan assume that any speaker who will consent to speak in a town like this is no good. That is all the proof they need. If he will speak in Buchanan, something must be the matter with him."

While her view of the matter was likely somewhat extreme, it nevertheless contained considerable truth. The small town and small city, at least in this section of America, has resigned itself in rapt admiration of everything big townish. It is assumed that everything worthy and worth while emigrates to the city if it can possibly get there and only the lees of life are left to stagnate along Main street. The town of 5,000 gazes in rustic wonder at the town of 10,000, which in turn gazes at the city of 100,000, which in turn despises its own merits and grovels in admitted inferiority before the city of 1,000,000, and so on.

New York city considers Chicago a country village and Chicago is not quite sure about it. Said the New York lady whom fate condemned to live a while in the Windy City: "There's really a lot of nice things about this town—all those passenger trains which leave for New York every day."

We'll venture to take the bull by the horns in one department alone, which may go for other departments of life as well. We can select several small town papers in Southwestern Michigan (oh no, not in Buchanan) which are superior to the level of metropolitan papers of the Middle West, especially in editorial quality and in their objective and fair attitude. Moreover, although no small towners would likely admit this, we would most willingly submit the matter to such authorities as the journalistic departments of Yale University or of Columbia, or of Northwestern. We know what their verdict would be—in fact, we know it to start with. We can spot small town editors here and there, none of them over 150 miles from Buchanan who stand on pinnacles of temperate fairness and judicial consideration unknown to the screaming rags from the big towns. They disagree with us in many things but they have the virtue of disagreeing in a way that commands respect.

And what is true of papers is just as true of other departments of business and life in the small town.

THE FARMER AND THE GAME PROBLEM

Although the Berrien County Sportsmen's Association is doing some excellent spade work in the way of cooperation with land owners in game conservation, the following, selected from an article in "Nature" (see Buchanan Library) is only too typical of the attitude of many sportsmen:

Gradually but surely the truth is dawning on the sportsmen of the country that free hunting grounds are diminishing in area and farms with "No Hunting" signs prominently displayed are becoming more and more in evidence. The sportsman himself has viewed the situation with no little alarm and distaste. I say "distaste" because it is common knowledge that the sportsmen have never considered the farmer an important factor in the game problem. Indirectly it has been their hope and suggestion that the farmer leave his lands open to hunting; that he arrange no end of shelter on his lands for the game birds; that he leave shocks of corn and other grain for the game to feed on; and in the winter that he take it on himself to trudge through the snow to appointed places and deposit, under shelters, the food of which the birds are to gain strength to carry them through the inclement season. * * * It is the usual "let George do it" attitude, the insufferable point of view that assumes that the farmer should take care of the birds so that the sportsmen may range over his lands in the fall and reap the crop.

To get first-hand farmer opinions, I made it a point some time ago to ask a hundred farmers their views on the matter. An enlightening cross section of opinion it was. Over ninety of the men cross questioned told of depredations by hunters on their lands; of fences broken down, gates left open; of cattle and other live stock; and of turkeys killed in the foraging style. No one of those questioned had ever received any money with which to feed game birds, but all of them had been asked to feed them, to make cover for them to leave weeds standing in fence edges and roadsides, and in other ways save the game for the sportsmen to hunt next fall.

But after all, "good will" is something that works both ways.

Supervisors Vote New Jail; Court House Addition

County Building Program to Total $430,000 Approved by Supervisors

The machinery for a $430,000 county building construction program which would provide the county with a new jail and a two-wing addition to the courthouse, was set up by the board of supervisors at its meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The proposal to build a new jail, at total cost of $130,000, was approved by a vote of 31 to 7. The plan for the courthouse addition, costing an estimated $300,000, was carried with affirmative votes of 21 supervisors.

Wednesday's action was merely the first step in getting the buildings, which must have the approval of the taxpayers at a special election. A special building committee must be appointed by the supervisors, plans prepared for submission to the Public Works Administration, and a PWA grant of $193,500 must be obtained before the special election will be called.

The board voted by secret ballot, first on the proposal of whether the county should build a one-wing addition to the courthouse, costing $155,000, or the $300,000 two-wing annex. Fifteen supervisors voted for the one-wing annex, against the 21 who voted for two wings, and one supervisor voted for no new construction.

The anticipated grant of $193,500 from the Public Works Administration includes $135,000 for the courthouse annex, and $58,500 for the new jail. It leaves $236,500 for the county to raise by a bond issue; $165,000 for the courthouse and $71,500 for the jail.

An explanation of the proposed building program was given the board by Supervisor John Warman, Watervliet, chairman of the finance committee. The finance committee and the building committee worked out the plan presented to the board, after consultations on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

Members of the committees were Mr. Warman, William H. Weber, Benton Harbor; William P. Sawyer, Three Oaks; Harry King, Sodas; and Thomas Hastings, Niles township, on the finance committee, and Charles H. Jackson, St. Joseph, and Lester Farnum, St. Joseph, of the building committee.

Three plans of construction were presented. One called for a one-wing addition to the courthouse, costing $155,000. The second called for a two-wing addition, and the third was for the new jail.

Mr. Warman's resolution set up a committee of five men to handle the building program. It resolved:

"That the chairman of the board of supervisors appoint a special committee of four, in addition to himself, with full power to act, to secure and execute plans of construction, equipment, etc., as well as to execute such contracts as may be deemed necessary by such committee to carry to completion. Such powers herein delegated to such committee shall be under such laws as apply to the construction and financing of public buildings."

"This special committee shall draft the necessary resolutions of referendum and other resolutions as required by the Public Works Administration, for submission and approval by this board before adjournment of this session."

A 10-year bond issue could be floated at a cost of 40 cents per year for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, Mr. Warman told newspaper men after the session. This sum could be included in the county tax rate and kept it within the 15-mill limitation, he said.

Supervisor Sheridan Cook, Niles, succeeded in amending the resolution, to provide that the special building committee should not approve its final plans before submitting them to the entire board.

Discussion skirted dangerously close to argument as Mr. Cook made his demand. Informed that under the resolution, as drawn originally, the special committee would have absolute authority, Mr. Cook said:

"I believe that the board should have the privilege of acting before the matter is submitted to the people. I don't question the ability of the men who may be appointed to the committee, but it is our largest enterprise in some time."

"It is the same procedure that was followed in building the county hospital," Mr. Warman replied, "that committee did not have to report back to the board before completing its work."

"Maybe it would have been a good idea if the plans had come back before the board," responded Mr. Cook. Mr. Warman retorted that "I've heard no criticism of the building or its equipment."

"It is of primary importance that the plan be submitted to the Public Works Administration at the earliest possible date," said Chairman Clarence Bartz. "I can't see any sense in this amendment."

Mr. Cook's amendment carried by vocal vote, and the resolution presented by Mr. Warman carried by a roll call vote of 30 to 0. Supervisor Loomis K. Preston, St. Joseph, told the board he had talked with a PWA representative, who said that $435,000 had been earmarked by the federal government for Berrien county projects, if Berrien county requested them. He advocated that the county act promptly to obtain a part of this apportionment.

Cost of architect's sketches, which will accompany the request to the Public Works Administration, will be nominal, Mr. Bartz assured the board. Supervisor A. W. Baker advocated that the county pay no more than three per cent interest on its bond issue. Mr. Bartz said the interest rate will be submitted to the board before the end of the session.

May Collections Large in County Treasurer's Office

Delinquent tax collections during May were $73,062.82, County Treasurer Ed La Violette reported Thursday. Checks for $61,381.91 were being prepared for mailing to townships, cities and villages. The sum of $6,572.60 was put into the county general fund, and $948.42 goes to the state. The remainder goes to county drain funds.

The city of St. Joseph paid more than $51,000 of the total, due to activity in the newly organized St. Joseph Housing corporation. St. Joseph receives back $51,652.64 as its delinquent tax return.

A thought for today: "There is nothing more universal than suffering. Many ascribe it to God. God has created a dependable world where we can count on certain causes producing predictable effects. Without such dependability we could not live. God in his love cannot prevent suffering as the consequence of human activity. But He can help us to bear suffering and turn it from withering pain into creative life-giving triumph." — Francis B. Sayre.

The Golden Text, (1 Cor. 5:8), is "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 15:12): "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you."

FELIX A. RACETTE, D. D. S.

Wishes to announce that he will be a candidate in the Democratic primaries September 13th, in the Fourth District for the office of representative in Congress.

Dr. Racette believes that the present economic situation can be bettered by a program encompassing the following:

1. A more cooperative attitude among the citizens of our country.

2. By the process of an increased buying power among the laborers and farmers thereby circulating more money and creating an unprecedented period of wealth in America.
