Royal Neighbors Present "Coast to Coast" at Clark Theatre Tonight

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle
Hank
of Hills
Corners
Saz:

It don't matter so much what you hev, ez what you do with what you got.

Moods
This life is full of phoney breaks and unpaid bills and such Enough to make a printer swear (which don't take very much).
And yet as Mr. Shakespeare said, three hundred years ago, There's nothing really good or bad, but thinking makes it so.
So now my head is bowed with grief, my heart with sorrow burns And bad luck seems to dog my steps and balk my every turn; Tomorrow'll come a sunny morn to chase my gloom away And things will merely make me laugh that make me cry today.

Boy Scouts

Sea Scouts
Verne Longworth
The S. S. Albattross sailed for the Elks temple at St. Joseph Friday night at seven bells ship time to attend the annual Sea Scout Ball.
The ball started with a formal ship ceremony at about 2 bells.
First the crews were mustered aboard, then the guests came on board and lastly the skippers of the various ships were piped on.
A Bridge of Honor, corresponding to the Boy Scout Court of Honor, was held with the following awards being given out: Apprentice, Ordinary, Able, Star Scout, of which some Sea Scouts are yet Land Scouts and working on merit badges, and lastly an eagle award given out. Following the stowing of gear the dance began. It was stopped briefly at 4 bells when Mr.
Van Corp, Committeeman Derby, Commodore Gardner accepted a painting by Ship 10 of Benton Harbor. The painting pictured these men as the seven dwarfs in the current picture, Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs. Also during the brief intermission refreshments were to be had for the receiving.
They consisted of orangeade and wafers. The dancing was resumed again. About fifteen minutes later balloons and snowballs came floating from the ceiling and every one took the snowballs and began a "snowball fight." Among the favors and souvenirs, tiny boat models were given out also. After dancing until 8 bells (12 o'clock midnight) the various ships and crews returned to their home ports.
Those enjoying the ball from Buchanan were Mr. and Mrs.
Steve Martin, Bill Snodgrass, Fred DiGiacomo, Geneva Martin, Mary Lear, Mr. and Mrs. Remington and Verne Longworth. Other personalities seen there from Buchanan were Albert Webb and Fred Riley.
The Sea Scouts met last Monday night and after opening the meeting at 8 bells. The night turned out to be advancement night with John Huff passing the life jacket and ring buoy test, Verne Longworth passing the sea bag and Jack Markham passing his Sea Scout Promise. Next week everyone is responsible for at least one test. Due to Skipper Remington illness, Steve Martin was acting skipper. After answering some questions on Sea Scouting, the meeting was adjourned.
A. H. Hiller was called Thursday to his old home near Hudson, Mich., to attend the funeral of a friend and former neighbor on Friday. He returned home Saturday.

Ind. & Mich. Announces Residential Rate Reduction Here

I. & M. Campaigns
for Farm Users

Bertrand Twp. to Vote on Franchise Dec. 12; Hope to Sell 50% of Farm Homes

The electors of Bertrand township will hold a special election at the town hall Monday, Dec. 12, on the question of granting a franchise to the Indiana & Michigan Electric company to use the "highways, streets, alleys, and other public places . . . for the transmission and distribution of electricity . . . and to transact a local, business in said township, subject to such reasonable regulations as the township board shall prescribe from time to time." The election is one of several to be held in Berrien county during a campaign by the Indiana & Michigan Electric company to sell electricity to the farmers of the Buchanan district based on a $2.50 monthly minimum charge.
The campaign started two weeks ago in the southwest corner of the county and will proceed northward until the entire Buchanan district is covered. It is estimated that about 300 farmers of the 600 to 700 in the Buchanan district will become patrons, bringing the percentage of rural power users to nearly 50%, which is usually high.
The Indiana & Michigan Electric company is making the very advantageous offer of $2.50 per month minimum charge to farmers where the homes run not less than three to the mile.
Township elections are being called in order that temporary franchises granted by township boards may be ratified for thirty-year periods.

Christmas Seals Are on Sale Here

Buchanan residents who have not received tuberculosis Christmas seals through the mails will be given an opportunity, through the sale of seals in all grades in the school, to take part in the Thanksgiving Day to Christmas campaign to raise funds for the fight against tuberculosis. H. C.
Stark, superintendent of schools, announced today that a supply of the 1938 tuberculosis Christmas seals may be obtained from any school teacher in Buchanan.

It was explained that the school children are not to canvass the community. Those who have not received seals and wish to buy them should contact the office of the superintendent of schools or any school child. Children in the school may purchase seals for themselves or for their parents.
Emphasis was placed on the fact that tuberculosis is the chief disease enemy of young people.
Mr. Stark declared that since it is primarily for the protection of the younger generation that we buy tuberculosis Christmas seals, it seems appropriate that they take some part in their distribution.

"Protection of the home is the general theme of the 1938 Christmas seal," the superintendent said.
"Christmas seal pennies raised locally help to provide modern protection, through health education and case finding, for our community."
Proceeds from the state-wide sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals finance entirely the efforts of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association to control tuberculosis in Michigan.

is on the staff of the Hillsdale college paper this year and is pean countries.

Campaign to Buy New Court Uniforms

Members of the Future Farmers of the Buchanan high school are staging a season ticket selling campaign with the objective of raising sufficient funds to buy new uniforms for the basketball team.
The management plans to set aside a special section in the bleachers this winter for the holders of season tickets. Among the features of the home games this winter are the Niles and St. Joe contests, both on the local court.
Tickets may be purchased from any Future Farmer member or from Clarence Langer. In the event that such contacts cannot be made, the season tickets may be bought at the door at the Niles game Friday evening.

Fay-Ellis Dance Duo Wins Contest Titles

Ida Louise Fay and Dick Ellis, the Niles and Buchanan team of dance artists, garnered more terpsichorean honors in the past week while to all appearances carving out for themselves a niche in the field of professional dancing.
Monday evening they won a contest at the Hungarian Village in South Bend. Next Monday evening they will dance in the finals of this contest series. Tuesday evening of last week they won a contest at the recreation center in South Bend. Last Thursday evening they captured second place in an amateur contest, including features other than dancing, in the Club Lido, South Bend. Last night they appeared in a few selected steps at the I.
O. F. hall, lack of a proper floor and orchestral accompaniment limiting the show.
This evening they will dance as a "guest feature" at the Club Lido, South Bend. Saturday evening they will dance in a contest finals at LaPorte.

Renews Record for Forty-Third Year

R. F. Kompass, a member of the well known manufacturing family, which formerly conducted a factory in Buchanan and is now operating in Niles, renewed the Record in the past week, stating that the renewal brought the paper to his home for the 43d year.

Henry Smith is able to be up and about at his home this week after a siege of flu.

New Rate Applies After January 1

Progressive Changes to Lower Cost to 50 Kilowatt Hour by Jan. 1, 1940

Domestic electric customers of the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company will benefit after New Year's Day by a substantial reduction in rate, according to an announcement made today by Mr.
Thos. F. English, Vice President and General Manager of the Company.

The tariff which contains the reduction effective January 1, 1939, has been filed with the Public Service Commissions of the States of Indiana and Michigan. It also provides for two additional reductions which take place at six-month intervals. Within twelve months from the original filing, household customers of the company will enjoy a rate which starts at five cents a kilowatt hour and breaks rapidly to extremely low levels.

With the new rate fully effective in the final stage, the savings to customers below the present rate will amount to $282,192 a year.

The immediate reduction which becomes effective with bills rendered on and after January 1, 1939, will result in a cut in cost to six cents a kilowatt hour for the first block of 30 kilowatt-hours. On July 1, 1939, the first block will again be reduced to five and one-half cents a kilowatt-hour and finally, on January 1, 1940, the final reduction will be made, when domestic customers of the company will receive monthly service under the following tariff rate: First 30 kilowatt-hours 5c per kilowatt-hour. Next 30 kilowatt-hours 4½c per kilowatt-hour.
Next 240 kilowatt-hours 2½c per kilowatt-hour. Over 300 kilowatt-hours 1½c per kilowatt-hour.

An additional clause in the tariff provides for the continuation of the company's water heating service plan.

Under this plan the customer who has installed a standard water heater of specific capacity is permitted the monthly use of a fixed block of energy above 200 kilowatt-hours, sufficient for normal household use, at an extremely low rate.

In connection with the announcement of the rate reduction, Mr. Thos. F. English said: "On November 1, 1938 your electric company reduced the rate to its commercial service customers to a maximum of five cents a kilowatt-hour. The new commercial tariff is estimated to effect annual savings to this class of customers of approximately $97,000. Now we are announcing a progressive reduction to household customers through an immediate cut to six cents a kilowatt-hour for the first block and final reduction to five cents within a year.

"During the year 1938 the Indiana & Michigan Electric Company filed schedules for various classes of service reducing the cost of electric energy $131,295 per annum; with the filing of the new domestic service tariff, an additional savings of $282,192 is offered to our residential customers, making a total savings of $413,487 per annum.

"This rate reduction is a continuation of our policy of reducing rates wherever economies in operation and more extensive use of the service by our customers make this possible.

"In the past ten years, twenty-two reductions have been made resulting in substantial savings to all customers served by the Company. More and more the people in the territory we serve have realized that the completely electrified home not only provides convenient, carefree living but it is sound economy to buy electricity in quantity and thereby to secure what is equivalent to a "wholesale" rate. Under these new rates the price of electricity to our domestic customers drops to two and one-half cents after 60 kilowatt-hours' monthly use. No home is too small to enjoy the many electric services made possible by this low rate."

Bucks Trim Berrien Springs 25 to 21

The Buchanan Bucks started out their 1938-1939 basketball season by winning over Berrien Springs 25-21 last Wednesday.

A team of seniors consisting of Leiter and Heiny at forwards; Simpson at center, and Wesner and M. Rauch at guards started in the battle that got off to a fast start. Berrien, with two goals and a charity toss by Stover, and a bucket and a pair of free throws by Busse, jumped off to a 9-4 lead in the initial period. Wesner and Simpson scored goals for Buchanan.

Topash entered the fray at this point and the Bucks settled down and began to hit their shots. With Heiny and M. Rauch setting the pace with 10 lead at the intermission. The Bucks defense stiffened and held the Shamrocks to one point, a charity toss by Stover.

The third quarter was played on even terms with each team garnering seven points. In the final canto Berrien whipped four tallies through the nets while the Bucks were collecting two.

M. Rauch with three goals and a charity toss for seven points, and Heiny with three goals for six points, led the victors scoring.
Busse and Stover, each with three goals and two charity tosses, topped the losers.

The victory not only provided the Bucks with their first win of the season, but also gave them temporary possession of the Jones trophy.

In a preliminary game, Berrien Springs' second team defeated Buchanan's reserves 29-7. Taylor scored enough points alone to beat the Bucks. He led his team with nine points. Porter followed closely with eight.

Fairman, Franks, and T. Fitch each got a basket to lead the Bucks.

Scores by quarters.
Buchanan 4 12 7 2—25
Berrien Springs 3 7 7 4—21

Green Team

(By John Schultz)
The eyes of the county basketball fans will be turned toward Buchanan where on the evening of the 2nd of December Coach Johnny Miller's Bucks will play hosts to Coach Chester Davidson's Big Reds from Niles. The game between the reserve teams of the two schools will begin at 7:30.

Yes, sir, that game is here.
The oldest rivalry of the school will be continued on the gym floor.

Both teams turned in impressive performances last week although the Niles five came out on the short end of their game with Riley. Buchanan, in beating Berrien Springs 25 to 21, turned in a grand performance with a lot of promise. The playing of Rauchen, Simpson, Leiter, Heiny and Topash stood out. The Niles five lost to Riley 32 to 18.
Coach Davidson is working with a green team this year in comparison with the team that was regional champs last year. Two letter men round out the veterans returning to uphold last year's record. However, the other candidates look good.

The Big Reds hold a big lead over the Bucks in games won and lost in the past ten years. The Bucks have won six games while dropping fourteen decisions. The rivalry between the schools is longstanding and keen. Buchanan lost three games to Niles last year. The scores were 29 to 40, 24 to 32, and 21 to 25. The last time that a Buchanan team has defeated Niles was in the season of 1933-34.

The Millerites are working hard in preparation for the crucial test. Fundamentals and both defensive and offensive scrimmages are being held.

The Bucks have their best chance of winning from Niles this year. With three experienced men on the starting five and two others who have seen much action the attack should be strong.

The townspeople should get behind their basketball squad this year. They have one of the best teams in the history of the school and should win most of their games.

Are you coming? Remember Friday night at 7:30 you have a date at the Buchanan high gym.

The probable starting line-ups are:

Buchanan	Niles
Leiter	F
Heiny	F
Simpson	C
Wesner	G
M. Rauch	G
	Evick

Christian Science Churches
"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 4.

The Golden Text (Isaiah 43:15) is: "I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalm 145:9-11): "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works. All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 331): "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. Everything in God's universe expresses Him."

The Climbing Goat

Goats are natural climbers, their natural habitat being mountains where they spend their waking hours leaping from crag to crag, but that white belted goat at the Dutch Belt avenue estate of Richard ("Red") Schwartz is the climbingest of all, according to Bill Wangerin, the goat's guardian.

The goat almost got Wangerin's goat for a while, he says, what with climbing on the hen house and leaping from there to the barn or going down a line fence leaping from post to post. Finally he figured out a way to make use of him and chased him up the windmill and threw him the oil can. The goat mistook his intentions and ate the oil can, but everything came out right in the end, Mr. Wangerin states.

Practically all goats get pretty well belted when their owners get their Dutch up but a real Dutch belted goat is something of a novelty hereabouts.

Mr. Schwartz acquired him to go with the herd of Dutch belted cattle, belted chickens and belted hogs at his Dutch Belt avenue farm.

Tight-Wadding It Through Europe

CHAPTER 41
By HAWES

This business of hanging about the erstwhile habitations of the great is ordinarily profitless business but the vicinity of Grasmere was well worth seeing in its own right, and at some trouble and also extraordinary associations clustered about Dove Cottage.

As I walked back to the village from the cottage I looked down across a meadow bordering the lake where it is possible that that theme song of so many class rooms through so many years, "The Rhyme of the Ancient Mariner," was written. There on a summer day in 1799 Coleridge and Wordsworth went with plans to collaborate on the composition of a poem, of which Coleridge was to furnish the theme and plan. But the more headstrong talent of Coleridge ran away with the theme and Wordsworth is believed to have contributed only two lines.

An old man was raking hay in the meadow and I strolled over and talked. Were there any places in the near vicinity worth seeing that could be reached in a walk of an hour or so?

He proved to be an excellent promoter of the scenic glories of the neighborhood. Climbing down off the horse rake he painted the glories of the Cumberland hills in a valley of Lancashire dialect. See you ridge? I might go to the ends of the earth and find no finer sight than I could see from there in an hour's walk. I could see far back in the Cumberland Hills and there was an easy ascent by a well-traveled path.

Taking his advice I struck out up the ridge, one of many foot travelers trekking in all directions over the mountains. The view from the top of the ridge was indeed worth while and I sat at the top for an hour watching the rolling clouds that sweep forever about the tops of the brilliantly green hills, half purple in places with the heather and banked with pink foxgloves.

People may go to the Lake Country in England because of the historic and literary associations but they will return, if they can so arrange it, for the sheer unforgettable beauty of the hills and lakes themselves.

For loveliness alone I saw three memorable districts in Europe—perhaps four. They were: the Norwegian valleys of Gullbrandsdal and Romsdal; the brilliantly colored hill country north of Gothenberg, Sweden; the somber richness of the province of Hanover, Germany; and the lake country in the Cumberland hills of England.

Further back and higher in the hills I saw the shepherds tending their flocks of sheep as they had done in this district for thousands of years. On a rock a short distance away a young woman, no mean addition to the scenery in her own right, sat reading while her male escort potted around in the neighboring vegetation and occasionally returned spouting Latin botanical names. A straggling procession of foot travelers with knapsack and staff went by. One couple, a middle-aged man and his wife, sat down near me on a stone wall and I struck up a conversation.

He was from a mining town, evidently some sort of skilled worker. He told me that he and his wife took a walking-tour during his vacation every summer, each time selecting some different part of England for its historic or scenic interest. They were not staying in Grasmere but had engaged a room for a week in a farm house back in the country. Every day they took their staffs and walked in a new region.

He talked in a sober, restrained tone of conditions in England. War was probably coming, not that year but it was definitely in the cards. The business of rearmament was temporarily boosting employment in England and in all Europe, but the remote future did not look so good. These war threats had stifled the labor movement. England would be definitely trending toward state socialism he said, reiterating the constant theme of the laborers I talked with, were it not for the menace of Hitlerism. After listening to him and his fellows, it is not so hard for me to understand the liking of Chamberlain and his kind for Der Fuehrer.

But it would be futile to resist armament then, and the country must have a united front. What would be left if war did come? Perhaps not very much of what we call civilization. He spoke quietly, with somewhat more of restraint than I could muster myself. These English common people seemed able to view the situation with a sort of fatalism and without bitterness.

It was now about noon and I went back to the town. After a dinner I remember nothing about I went to the old church where the Wordsworths attended, with the churchyard in which they are buried outside. Directly in the front of the door was a desk with a book on it and slotted box beside it. Above a sign asked guests to contribute to a sum for the repair of the structure, the beams of which were being eaten by the "death-watch" beetle. The structure was centuries old, but to me it was just another old church, for I had exhausted the interest attaching to such buildings in my visit to Stoke Poges. Outside and to one side of the churchyard was a little cluster of graves of the Wordsworth family. One plain slab bore the name "William Wordsworth, 1770-1850." Only that and nothing more. Of more poignant interest to the average person was a large tablet such as you see in every little town and community in England, inscribed with the names of the local men killed in the World War. Although Grasmere was no larger than Dayton, Mich., there were twenty-five names of battle victims inscribed, including one woman ambulance driver.

I wanted to see the larger town of Keswick further up in the hills, where Ruskin was born, and where Walter Scott Shelley, Southey and Coleridge had lived and wrote for a time at least and where in our own time the modern writer, Hugh Walpole, had resided.

I caught a bus and went up that afternoon. The town of Keswick has about 2,000 inhabitants. In the little square where I dismounted from the bus was a stone shaft, enclosed by a little square of stone posts and chains. On the sides of the shaft were inscribed the names of 120 men of Keswick, killed in the World War. If Buchanan had suffered in the same proportion, 240 local men would have lost their lives in battle. It is not hard to imagine what that war meant to England.

The sights I saw on the road to Keswick and in the quaint old town by a magnificent lake surrounded by high hills were unforgettable—and indescribable. I sat for a while in the old hotel where Walter Scott and Shelley staid, poked about the narrow winding streets and then caught the next bus back to Grasmere.

Near the square where the buses stopped was a pub, an ale house, the reputed forum of the English workman. I had envisioned myself, before starting for Europe, sitting in one of these citadels of free speech, listening to the profundities of the conversation of English workmen. And since I had enjoyed a number of conversations with such workmen, I took advantage of the opportunity. But if my experience was any gauge, the adage "Those who drink beer think beer," applied in England as elsewhere.

For one thing the Lancashire dialect I heard in that pub was almost as mysterious to me as a foreign tongue. The conversation while I was there dealt with strictly local matter, whether the widening of one of the Grasmere lanes was in the jurisdiction of the town or of the county. That much I gathered from a word now and then. After twenty minutes I left with a vivid idea of the intricacies of English dialect.

Among them are handsome John Howard and Robert Summings, who will be seen as partners on the gridiron and rivals in love, Mary Carlisle, who plays the sweetheart of West Point, Owen Davis, Jr., and Benny Barlett. ## CHAPTER ONE NEW WORLDS TO CONQUER

In the opening chapter of Universal's 15-part serial, "Flash Gordon's Trip to Mars," coming to the Hollywood Theatre Friday and Saturday, Ming, the Merciless Emperor of Mongo, now on Mars, collaborates with Azura, Queen of Magic, in operating a complicated lamp which sucks nitrogen from the earth. They employ this nitrogen for making explosives to destroy their enemies. The loss of nitrogen raises havoc on each, so it was just another old church, for I had exhausted the interest attaching to such buildings in my visit to Stoke Poges. Outside and to one side of the churchyard was a little cluster of graves of the Wordsworth family. One plain slab bore the name "William Wordsworth, 1770-1850." Only that and nothing more. The ballet is a highlight of Sonja's newest 20th Century-Fox picture, "My Lucky Star," in which she stars with Richard Greene. The film was directed by Roy Del Ruth.

WEDNESDAY AND THURSDAY

Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy, acclaimed the greatest entertainers in history, are starred with Adolphe Menjou and Andrea Leeds in Universal's John M. Stahl production, "Letter of Introduction."

Charles McCarthy, who is related to the ventriloquist, Edgar Bergen, by word of mouth, was "born" in Chicago, eleven years ago. His first spoken words, directed at the Carpenter-Surgeon who fashioned him, were "I'll mow ya' down." Bergen says that Charlie has been a "problem child" ever since. Charlie stands three and a half feet high, weighs 45 pounds, and has red hair and brown eyes. His favorite sport is annoying Bergen. He carries $5,000.00 worth of insurance, against fire, theft and termites.

FOR THE PRICE OF ONE CIGARETTE

Christmas Tree Lights contribute much of the color and glamour that typifies the Yuletide Season to eager childish spirits and to appreciative grown-ups alike... for the price of a single cigarette - not a package - your Christmas tree is illuminated for an entire winter evening.

THERE are countless other everyday small items costing a dime - a fountain drink... a shine... a bar of candy... all costing less than a package of cigarettes, yet more than the average household electric bill for one day, which includes entertainment, illumination and freedom from drudgery. To the Average Head of Family, Electricity is one of the least demanding figures in the household budget.

PREPARED... for any emergency

RAGING FIRES... swirling floods... blinding blizzards... icy sleet storms... many are the means at Nature's command for destroying telephone lines.

This company and its 9000 skilled employees stand ever ready to cope with emergencies, armed with the best equipment and material reserves. Backed, too, by other Bell System companies which, because Bell equipment and methods are standardized, can lend immediate aid.

When the recent blizzard swept northern Michigan, telephone circuits were demolished... towns cut off. Yet this company's repair crews quickly restored service.

When the terrific September hurricane tore through New England at a cost of 500 lives, millions of dollars worth of telephone apparatus was destroyed. This and other Bell companies rushed men, operators, material and equipment into the stricken area. The tremendous task of restoring a half million telephones to service was accomplished in record time.

It is comforting to know that, however great the emergency, this company, with such Bell System backing, is prepared to keep Michigan a vital telephone service alive.
