

REAMERS MEET CHICAGO 5 IN BENEFIT

Buchanan Co-ops Inc. Discuss Local Freezer Locker Plant Today

Is Benefit For Child Study Club

Now Here's the Proposition

To hear sum of these lokul politshuns talk you'd think they tued in a broadcast from Mt. Sinia at 8:30 a. m. evury mornin' an' got the straight dope from God-dlemitey.

In most any argment, there's about ez meny crazy nuts on one side as there is on the other.

Mere Doggerel
I like a dog where a dog's own place is—

More or less in the open spaces
With squirrels to bark at and cats to chase

And trees and poles all over the place
But a dog is a plant that doesn't bloom

At his proper best in a drawing room
And a knit wool sweater with ribbons prissy

Can turn a bull pup into a kissy.
I can think of things that I like much better

Than a Boston bull in a cute pink sweater
And a greyhound purp is a tragic thing

When dragged about on a six foot string.
It may be I'm balmy under my hat

But here's my opinion plain and flat—
People have little under their lids
Who talk to their dogs as though they were kids.

Weather Note
Well, friends and neighbors (Floridans please note well), Buchanan had its one day of winter so far Monday with the mercury registering from zero to 4 above according to location of thermometers. Which brings to our attention an illustration of cheerfulness under adverse circumstances.

Elmer Lauver reports seeing a flock of from 12 to 15 robins around his house on the south bank of the St. Joseph at the end of River street during Monday's cold snap. Although the mercury touched the low mark of zero that day, the birds were chirruping goodnaturedly while foraging for food.

The observers at the Indiana & Michigan power plant at the river reported that the low mark of the week and of the winter was 4 above zero at 7 a. m. Monday. Observers on higher ground reported zero, which is quite possible.

It's Pretty But Phew
In case you have an eye for beauty and a bad cold so that you can't smell anything you would enjoy a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arlen Clark this week to see the specimen of Sacred African Lily which is in bloom there. The plant was at its colorful and redolent best Tuesday but observers report that its wallow is still considerable and will likely remain so the remainder of the week. The bloom is very beautiful and perhaps the largest thing in the blossom line to be seen in these parts.

Louis Baker, who was seriously injured by a gunshot wound two weeks ago, was able to return to his home Monday from Pawating hospital and is well on the road to recovery.

Born, a son, to Mr. and Mrs. William Bowker, Jr., a daughter, at their home northwest of Buchanan, Friday.

Chris Koenigshof had as guests Sunday his daughter, Mrs. Alma Fuller of Buchanan and his son, Howard Koenigshof and family of South Bend.

S. Bend Plant Promoter Talks

Local Cooperative is Third Largest in Michigan In Its Class

The possibilities of a "freezer locker" plant for this community will be the topic of general interest at the open meeting of the Buchanan Coops, Inc., at the Christian church this afternoon with Professor C. D. Layng, promoter of the freezer locker system at the Ullery Cold Storage plant at South Bend as the speaker.

Mr. Layng will speak on the topic "The History and Romance of Food Preservation" at the afternoon meeting of the stockholders. Preceding his talk, Mrs. E. James Valt of Niles will give several dramatic readings, and several songs will be sung by the Zesch sisters of Berrien Springs.

At the annual business meeting held this morning Manager Alfred George reported that the Buchanan Farm Coops, Inc., is the third largest cooperative of its class in Michigan. He stated that the institution is an important factor in bringing business to Buchanan, as it served in all 1500 families in the past year, according to the card index records at the offices. Of this number 390 were in the city and the remainder, over 1100, came from the farms and towns immediately adjacent. Mr. George read the following list of customers whose purchases had totalled over $1,000 in the past year: Fred Koenigshof, Charles French, Ralph Spbaszy, Emory Rough, James Reed, J. C. Hollenbaugh. The following list had bought from $500 to $1,000: Goldie Price, Glenn Kinney, O. B. York, Greeley Korn, Paul DeWitt, Ray Frame, Joe Letcher, LaRue Gillette, Clarence Hartline.

He stated that the make-up of the directorate was largely responsible for this showing. J. G. Boyle, the president, is a large land owner and fruit man and is secretary of the Berrien County Federal Farm Loan; Dean Clark is supervisor from Buchanan township, the acquaintance of the two men practically covering the entire districts north and south of Buchanan. A. G. Hasset is postmaster of Buchanan and his acquaintance covers the city. Charles Tichenor is a director of the county soil conservation committee and one of the best known farmers of Niles township.

A feature of the dinner will be frozen peas as a sample of food conservation possible under the freezer locker system.

Rev. W. Brunelle Authors a Book

Rev. W. H. Brunelle, pastor of the local Presbyterian church, is the author of a study handbook entitled "A Christian Amid Clashing Authorities" just off the Westminster Press (Philadelphia), designed for the direction of discussion groups and issued under the auspices of the Board of Christian Education of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America.

The foreword states that the book is a part of the Adult Program of Christian Education undertaken by that board, for use in adult discussion groups, whether in Sunday schools or elsewhere.

In a foreword the author states that the book is designed to aid the thinking person in the determination of the proper allegiance, when competing authorities are attempting to influence or dictate his opinions. He has presented an autographed copy to the Buchanan Public Library, where it may be read. It will be widely used in Presbyterian educational work.

Miss Marjorie Potter of Gallen was a guest Saturday evening of Mrs. Bert Metzgar.

Mrs. R. C. Puffer arrived home Saturday evening from Grand Rapids, where she had been under treatment at a hospital for a few days.

Savings & Loan Names Officers

Shift from State To Federal Status Aids Borrowers

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Buchanan Federal Savings & Loan Association was held in the association office Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, for the election of officers, hearing of reports and other business relative to the conclusion of the year's business and to the policies of the organization.

The following directors were elected: Claude V. Glover, H. R. Adams, F. C. Hathaway, Frank Hahlcht, Oscar Swartz, Frank Merson, A. H. Hiller, Harry Berry, Arthur Voorhees. This board then reorganized, electing the following officers for 1939: president, H. R. Adams; vice president, F. C. Hathaway; secretary-treasurer, Claude V. Glover; assistant secretary, Geneva Metzger; attorney, Frank R. Sanders.

Of chief interest in the transaction of the association during the past year was the transfer from state to federal status, the name being changed from the Industrial Building & Loan Association to the Buchanan Federal Loan & Savings Association. The change was from state to national charter, resembling the change from a state to a national bank status. This change gave the organization a desirable connection with the Federal Home Loan Bank, with added borrowing facilities. It also enabled borrowers to take advantage of the up-to-date direct reduction plan, whereby the borrower pays interest only on the amount of loans left unpaid. The new status is thus of very distinct advantage to the borrower.

The association was organized in 1910 and has played a considerable part in the home and other building operations of the city. Assets are $353,423.73.

School Unit Plan Receives Approval

It's all a lot of fun for the children, but the unit plan of education manages to teach them something at the same time it is entertaining them. Most Berrien county teachers, who have been using the plan only since the opening of school in September, declare they like it.

This is the first year the unit plan has been tried in Berrien county on a large scale. It is not compulsory, but most of the teachers were willing to try it, as with it the educational process ceases to be a tedious duty and becomes an adventure.

The unit plan is designed to use all school subjects at one time, through developing a "project." Indian study has been an extremely popular subject during the past few months, and weather and climate is being accepted with favor.

While studying the Indians the pupils were trained to use their geography, history and even their arithmetic, in working out plans to make tepees, bead work, stone tools, utensils and mud huts. Their writing, grammar and spelling were given a workout when it came time to compose themes or stories relating to the work.

When it comes to weather and climate, there probably will be more of a chance to use some of the more academic subjects like arithmetic and geography. Agriculture, an important subject in rural schools, also will have an important place in the weather and climate study.

There may be critics of the unit plan, who protest that it takes time that should be spent in learning to read, write and cipher. In the unit plan, however, lies the true aim of education. When the student leaves school and faces actual work, it is not going to be neatly divided into separate subjects. He is going to have to combine all his knowledge into a flexible tool with which to solve his problems. The unit plan, by making him direct all his learning towards a specific task, gives him that sort of training.

To the children it is all play, and they have pitched into the Indian work with enthusiasm. Mrs. Jennie Burton Mechem, county school commissioner, says that most of the children especially have enjoyed the work with their hands, the making of Indian tools, wigwams and bead work. She is going to encourage a little more stress, in the future, on the written work which accompanies the unit plan.

Study of the American Indian is rich in romance and beauty, and it could provide a part of the cultural basis for better citizenship.

It is not necessary to remind anyone that the United States citizenry is made up of dozens of different nationalities and races from the old world, or of their descendants. Each of these different nationalities has brought to this country a different culture, tradition and social outlook. That they have been welded into the American state with such unity and without creating the "minority" problems that trouble Europe, is one of the miracles of the modern age.

Immigrants to this country may find that the culture with which they are familiar is different than that of the American republic. But there is one cultural background that all Americans have in common, and that is the history and legends of the Indians. It has given to every American city and county a distinctiveness that no other country can match, from names of towns and traces of Indian languages, to some of the foods that are typically American.

This common heritage should be impressed upon school children. They should know the Indian, not as a villainous, treacherous "dust biting" barbarian, but for the just power of his legends, the geometrical perfection of his art work, the melody of his music and poetry, and the freedom of his spirit.

In the long struggle to make the continent a suitable place for white people to live, the Indian almost was forgotten. Now that nature has been conquered, there are scholars with leisure to search and recover for us the lore of the first American citizens.

Berrien county children do not need to go far to find their Indian lore. The Indians were settled here before LaSalle first visited the St. Joseph river. Some of their descendants still reside in or near the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Gridley had as their guests Sunday evening Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Brunelle and son, Gaylord.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Snyder were visitors in Marshall and Albion Sunday.

Ray Cooney returned Monday evening to Chicago having been a week-end guest of Miss Betty Montgomery.

Concert League Assumes Form

Completing Plans to Bring 3 International Artists to District

The community wide organization of the Niles Community Concert League, comprising ten localities surrounding Niles, is nearing completion, says W. S. "Bill" Wright, of Niles, chairman of organization and publicity, who visited the Record office Tuesday afternoon.

This is the first time an organized effort has been made to bring great artists of national and international fame to Niles and community, which no doubt will meet with immediate approval and support.

With this plan, as presented by the National Concert League of Chicago, of which Mr. Wright is director of organization and publicity, and which the Niles Community Concert League becomes a unit with scores of other cities throughout the central states, there are no guarantors.

No individual, club, or organization is asked to underwrite a guarantee, it is a membership plan, to which every man, woman, and student is cordially invited to join and secure their membership card, as no single admissions are ever sold to these concerts in any league city. Memberships for the three artists concerts are $2.50 for adults and $1.00 for students.

Mr. R. R. Robinson is a director of the Niles Community Concert League and will have charge of the local campaign for members, during the week of Feb. 6th to 11th inclusive.

The first concert will be given Feb. 28 by William Miller, American Tenor, nationally known concert, opera, and radio artist, in joint recital with the sensational South American Cellist, Ennio Bolognini, formerly first cellist of Chicago Symphony Orchestra, and now featured soloist on N. B. C. staff and networks.

The second concert will be April 11th, by the internationally known English blind pianist, Alec Templeton, whom the critics acclaim as one of the great musical miracles of our generation.

The last concert will come the last of April or fore part of May and can not be named until the close of membership week, which the budget will decide, but it is hoped the enrollment of members will warrant the Saldenberg Symphonitza of 18 soloist artists of Chicago Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Daniel Saldenberg, formerly first cellist of the orchestra.

Mr. Wright will assist the local directors by giving talks on the artists and membership plan before high school assemblies, service clubs and other meetings in the various communities, during the week of Jan. 30th, Feb. 4th and membership week, Feb. 6 to 11th inclusive.

Baroda Man Seeks County School Commissioner Job

Howard C. Walter of Baroda will seek the Republican nomination for Berrien County School Commissioner at the Republican Delegates Convention held at the St. Joseph High School Auditorium on February 8.

Mr. Walter has a college life certificate, and holds a B. S. Degree from Michigan State College. He also holds a M. A. Degree granted by the University of Michigan during the summer of 1936. With additional hours of work beyond his Master's degree Mr. Walter has kept abreast with educational trends and practices. The graduate work at the University was taken in Supervision and Administration. Mr. Walter has had 15 consecutive years of teaching experience, and 12 years of Administrative experience and teaching in Berrien County. He was Principal of the Eau Claire High School for three years and Superintendent for three years, and for the past six years has been Superintendent of the Baroda High School where he now resides.

Mr. Walter was reared upon a farm and attended a one-room rural school for the first eight grades of work. The course work and background of experience and training that he has had should give him a real understanding of rural problems and the work of the rural teacher.

The candidate is 39 years of age, is married, and has two children. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge at Berrien Springs, a member of the Executive Committee of the Berrien County Education Association, and chairman of the legislative committee of the association. He has served as a delegate to the State Convention of the M. E. A. for the past two years, and for the past nine years has been an active member of the Berrien County Superintendents Association.

Mr. Walter has been active in the work of the Republican Party in the township and county. He has attended Republican Caucuses and Conventions. He has been a candidate for office on the Republican ticket in Baroda Township, and contributed toward the Republican cause.

Children in Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield
Gangsters in the Making

It has been proven in juvenile court that the child who is permitted to torture and mistreat family pets frequently develops into a hardened criminal.

With the wide-spread sale of rifles and shot guns to irresponsible hunters unchecked, there is little wonder that innocent bystanders, live-stock, song birds and family pets are shot during hunting season.

As long as this nation adheres to the erroneous belief that all red-blooded American boys must be given pistols, air-guns and rifles as toys, we can expect murders to be committed in the United States at the rate of one every forty-five minutes through the year. Furthermore, it does not take a misguided youth who is skilled in operating an automatic revolver or rifle long to learn how to manipulate a machine gun—perhaps to commit murder.

Past, Present and Future

Many parents who are brought into court with their children lament the fact that the child of a half century ago was not as worldly wise as is the average one of today.

While it is possible that there existed as much graft-and corruption during that period as in our present age, it is doubtful if the ordinary child was aware of such a condition. With motion pictures, radios, newspapers and magazines exposing crime in every detail, it is hard for the modern youth not to know more of such conditions than did the child of former days. Furthermore, our modern civilization does not enable a youngster to develop a sense of responsibility. For instance, an apartment house offers no opportunity for the performance of specific chores each morning and evening. All students of juvenile delinquency admit that many children run afoul of the law simply because they have no work to perform and no responsibilities to assume.

Such social elements would lead one to think that the problems of children are increasing. While present day children are shown far greater examples of law violation, it is becoming increasingly evident that psychology and child guidance have offset many of the emotional factors which were prevalent in children of a generation ago. Our knowledge of child psychology and youthful emotional disturbances gives us a deeper understanding of juvenile problems than was possessed by the parents of the preceding generation. When such rapid strides are made in the right direction, the future should hold a bright outlook for adolescents.

The Sister-in-Law

No relationship by law exists between a sister of a bride and a sister of a groom. The restricted definition of a sister-in-law is the sister of one's husband or wife, or the wife of one's brother. But popular usage ignores the restricted definition and extends the term to include the wife of one's wife's or husband's brother.

Murl H. DeFoe on Liquor Board

Editor Charlotte Republican-Tribune Named by Fitzgerald

In announcing the appointment of Murl H. DeFoe, Charlotte editor, as a member of the state-liquor control commission, Governor Fitzgerald said:

Murl H. DeFoe is one of the best known, and in my opinion, one of the finest men in Michigan.

He is a country editor, close to the people of a typical Michigan community. Mr. DeFoe is widely travelled and widely read. He has accepted appointment to the state liquor control commission with the thought that by so doing he can promote the idea of fairness and decency in a business that is difficult to keep within those bounds. In my estimation no one in the state is more interested in good government than Dr. DeFoe.

In addition to his newspaper experience, Mr. DeFoe has had long experience in public affairs. He was a member of the senate in the term of 1919-20 and was executive clerk for former Governor Chase S. Osborn. At that time the duties of the executive clerk were comparable to those of the present day executive secretary to the governor, with the added duty of handling pardons and paroles. He was a delegate to the last national Republican convention. Mr. DeFoe was associated with me during the war in representing the National Food Administration in Michigan.

The appointee is editor of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune. He is married and has two children. Mr. DeFoe is a lifelong resident of Eaton county. He is a member of the Congregational church, and national Boy Scout council representative for three Michigan counties. He is 58 years old.

I am confident that Mr. DeFoe will be a fine asset to the liquor control commission and will faithfully and well represent the people of Michigan. He is a bone dry him-

Junior Play Will Be "Growing Pains"

"Growing Pains," the junior class play, is a story of boys and girls in their teens, a story of the joys and sorrows of the awkward age when young people are growing into womanhood and manhood. It tells the dilemma of the McInneses who find themselves facing the turbulence of youth. It tells of George and Terry McIntyre who go through growing pains in company with the neighborhood group of young people. Many things happen to them, but the end is bright and promising. The audience will see the play through the eyes of the mother and father in the play as well as through memories of their own childhood.

"Room Service" To Be Senior Play

The senior play for 1939 has been chosen. It is entitled "Room Service" and was written by John Murray and Allen Foretz; published by Dramatist's Play Service, Inc. A gay comedy, "Room Service" is now playing on Broadway. Although the play will not be produced here until May 9, it has been east so that the players may have their pictures in the annual.

WRONG SIZE LAMP BULBS ARE MISFITS, TOO!

Most people know enough not to wear tight shoes. But science has just recently proved that reading or working under wrong size lamp bulbs may be even more harmful. A child doing homework under a 25-watt bulb, for example, may not only strain his eyes without knowing it, but actually wastes as much valuable nervous energy as a laborer digging a ditch! For easy seeing without eyestrain, try this simple rule: One 100-watt Mazda lamp, or two 60's, or three 40's in each reading lamp.

BETTER LIGHT for BETTER SIGHT ...

NEW SUBJECTS OFFERED

Four new subjects are offered the second semester: business English, dramatics, economics and economic geography.

Students Form New Science Club

Students interested in all phases of science now have a club. Sponsored by Mr. Carter, it will meet every two weeks, but members may use the laboratory during home room and after school whenever the instructor is around.

So far, membership is limited to juniors and seniors. Already there are eighteen members—3 girls and 15 boys.

Interests range wide: analysis, radio, and photography are the most popular. Arnold Herman's one ambition is to make an electric light.

F. F. A. Acquires Fine New Banner

The F. F. A. boys have their room decorated and dominated by a new blue and gold banner. Chapter 165 paid for it by selling pins, season tickets for basketball and football, and by selling candy at their November fair.

Junior Literary Guild Books Arrive

The new January numbers of the Junior Literary Guild books are now in circulation. They are: Mei Li, by Thomas Handforth; The Four and Lena, by Marie Barringer; The Young Brontes, by Mary Jarden; and Mid-Shipman Davy Jones, by Raymond Toner.

SCHOOL QUIET LAST FRIDAY

School was closed last Friday so that teachers could record the marks in the high school office without disturbance, after a week of examinations. The semester also closed Friday and on Monday the pupils took up their new schedules.

School Installs Electric Incubator

A new cabinet incubator has arrived at school to replace one which was hopelessly out of date.

Run by electricity, it has moisture control, air cooling devices, and the eggs are self-turned. With a 400 egg capacity, the F. F. A. boys plan to sell the extra eggs for $2.00 per hundred in order to pay the cost of $44.

The incubator is modern in every way, and its exterior is no eyesore. It is painted a natural, dark color and the metalwork is brass.

Classes Make Sewing Cabinets

Constructed by members of the wood-working classes, sewing cabinets are attractive and useful. Their sturdy build shows the skill that may be acquired in this line of work.

The cabinets are about eight inches high and twelve inches long. They have double lids and are roomy enough for the most exacting taste.

Library Receives 3 New Magazines

The library is receiving the American, Woman's Home Companion, and Collier magazines. They come as additions to the magazines ordered.

Since there is not enough shelf space for the new ones, Miss Cernahan plans to put in a wooden shelf, half-way between two of the steel ones.

Makes Model of Ancient Catapult

An ancient catapult was the subject for a model handed in by Jack Ednie in Mrs. Whitman's history class.

The model is 9 1/2" wide, 6" long and stands 3" high. It was used extensively by the Romans against the Gauls in the Gallic Wars.

Grade News

Mrs. Helm—Second Grade
The children in Mrs. Helm's Second Grade are learning Health Songs for their Health class. "Jump Rope" is the exercise song. "Animal Crackers" is the food song and "Benjamin Baker" the sneezing song.

In Language class the children are learning Thank You prayers, thanking the Lord for health and parental care.

Many new Christmas toys were brought to school for all to enjoy. These toys were also used in Art class for clay modeling and paper cutting.

Miss Fritz—Second Grade
We visited the manual training department Monday. Mr. Miller taught us the names of different tools and how to use them correctly.

Miss Spear—Fifth Grade
For the January issue of the School Tribune we made the pictures, and we are making the copies for the paper on the mimeograph machine.

Miss Jeffrey—Sixth Grade
We have written another specimen of writing to compare with the work at the beginning of the year. We think Robert Mitchell has shown the greatest improvement.

We completed the Science Reader "Discovering Our World" and are ready to begin Book Two of the series.

The book reports that were written during the language periods last week were exceptionally well done and showed a variety of material read. A great deal of leisure is used in the library.

We received a new book for our library, "Great Horse" by Virginia May Moffitt.

We are making a frieze, "Rip Van Winkle," to place on the front bulletin board.

Miss Reams—Sixth Grade

The following children have been neither absent nor tardy during the first semester of school: James Benak, Allen Clements, Betty Dekey, Juanita Hittle, Jean McGowan, Marie Scheffman, Earl Swain, Laverne Toll, and Ruth Van Every.

Dewey Avenue School

Miss Miller—First Grade
Dick Lauver has painted a red fire truck. Robert Gamble painted a yellow and blue airplane.

Miss Anderson—Kindergarten
The kindergarten has a new pupil, Jacqueline New.

Mrs. Wilcox—Second Grade
Margaret Surlock entered the second grade Monday. She is from Berrien Springs.

The second grade is working on a large Eskimo poster in connection with our project.

B. H. S. Teacher is Also Pastor

Joseph Hyink, for several years the teacher of mathematics here, has occupied the position of pastor of the Bertrand Community Church for exactly four years.

After completing his course at Hope College, Holland, Michigan, he attended the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago one year later. There he received his ecclesiastical training which prepared him for the position he now holds.

"I am happy and proud to be the pastor of this little church," said Mr. Hyink, "I have tried to serve in the best way in my power."

STINKER CLUB GIVES PARTY

Miss McNeil was hostess to the Stinker Club, the junior play cast of 1938, at a dinner held in the home economics room Saturday night, January 4.

The members present were Bill Strayer, Rex Hungerford, Delos Watson, Raymond DeWitt, Leland George, Winston Sands, Carol Dunlap, and Ruth Jean Haslett.

BOOK OF THE WEEK

"Thrills of a Naturalist's Quest," by Ditmars is one of the few books that tell of the uninteresting part of a scientist's work as well as the thrills of an expedition.

His first job of cataloguing specimens of butterflies at a museum, he was forced to quit. He then accepted a newspaper job in order to care for his collection of snakes. He finally returned to science and became curator of a zoo.

His story of the needs and personalities of his charges is exceptionally interesting.

HOBBYHORSEMEN

Marian Hansen's hobby is clipping pictures from magazines for her scrapbook. Her favorite pictures are those showing room furnishings in color, but plain pictures are also acceptable, providing they are interesting and tell a story.

Marian now has one scrapbook full and enough pictures are ready to fill three more. She has been collecting for three years.

HOLLYWOOD

FRIDAY - SATURDAY

When a couple of imaginative adolescents set out to find a husband for a girl's mother, anything can happen and does in "Listen, Darling," which is a story embracing just that situation, and furnished one of the laugh feasts of the season.

Featuring Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland with Mary Astor as the mother whose romance they attempt to guide, it is a gem of adolescent nonsense with laughs galore.

FRIDAY - SATURDAY

Charles Farrell, active abroad for the past two years, returned to the Hollywood Theatre screen in "Flight to Game," a breath-taking film whose thrilling aerial sequences and timely narrative make for plenty of audience excitement and attention. Jacqueline Wells is cast opposite the virile young star.

"SUBMARINE PATROL" TELLS GREAT TALE

The never-told-before drama of the heroic "Splinter Fleet" climaxes John Ford's Award-winning career in "Submarine Patrol," the film Darryl F. Zanuck produced for 20th Century-Fox and which is to be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, to be hailed as one of the greatest pictures of the year.

The sub chasers are a branch of the Navy that have received comparatively little notice and yet saw some of the most exciting action of the Great War. Manned by the strangest crews of civilian odds and ends ever to brood a fighting ship, the "Splinter Fleet" provides a powerful dramatic theme worthy of Director Ford's robust, forthright technique.

OPENING WEDNESDAY
Dick Powell and Olivia de Havilland, an entirely new romantic duo, are teamed in the leading roles of "Hard to Get," a breezy, fast-moving comedy with many farcical complications, produced by Warner Brothers, to be shown on Wednesday and Thursday.

Why WAIT—and WISH you hadn't?

IN the big Buick factory in Flint these days the long assembly line is running smooth as oil.

Not in ten years has production been steadier—and not in the memory of man has the work been better or the car so fine and full of dollar value.

Which is one reason we ask, man to man—what are you waiting around for?

With the first bright budding weather a flock of folks are going to itch to start traveling behind this power-packed Dynafash straight-eight.

They're going to hear the call of the open road—and hone to answer it in smart Buick style, with BuCoil Springing to cushion them along.

They're going to come pouring in on us wanting Buicks, wanting them fast—and in spite of all we'll be able to do then, somebody may have to wait.

But the smart buyers will be all set—will be on their way looking at spring-fresh greenery through Buick's new "visibility unlimited."

They'll be having glorious fun behind this supple giant of a Dynafash power-

Find Limit In Use of "Sun" Vitamin

Setting of a practical limit in the use of Vitamin D foods that will supply in winter the lack of normal sunshine means both a minimum and a maximum that children, at least, ought to receive.

One teaspoon of a good grade of cod liver oil offers sufficient Vitamin D for a day, it is pointed out by Gladys Everson, research assistant in foods and nutrition at Michigan State College. The supply holds between 300 and 400 units of the vitamin, sufficient if it is supplemented by adequate amounts of nourishing foods containing proper minerals.

Teeth and bony portions of the body need the minerals if the child is to grow. Unless milk is irradiated, such a food needs the vitamin partner in order to let the body assimilate and use the minerals in the foods eaten or in liquids.

Miss Everson gives credit to the work of two doctors, Jeans and Stearns, at Iowa University, who conducted research to determine requirements for the sunshine vitamin known as D. They reported that excessive amounts far beyond the need of the child are dangerous.

Although the work of the doctors pointed to a definite need of the 300 to 400 units daily from infancy to school age, further research indicated an equally large amount advisable for children of all ages even through adolescence. Optimum health and avoidance of dental cavities were most evident results of safe supplies of Vitamin D.

Michigan Is Self Supporting in Food

With a fence around Michigan, the Student Union at Michigan State College still could serve a thousand customers each day if substitutes could be found for citrus fruits, spices and seafoods. Seventy-five per cent of the foods used at the Union Cafeteria, college operated food service, is Michigan grown or processed. Many of the 6,000 students eat regularly at the Union and nearly all of them eat there occasionally. From Lake Superior and Lake Michigan fish to Benton Harbor cherries and peaches, from St. Clair salt to Frankenmuth cheese, the entire state contributes the best of its foods to feed the students. Figures compiled with the aid of food distributors show that 90 of the 125 staple articles of food used at the Union are grown or processed in Michigan.

Even a startlingly large majority of canned foods from applesauce to tomato juice, from asparagus to spinach and sauerkraut, and blueberries and mince-meat are among purchases obtained from canning factories of the state.

Local farmers bring their products to the Union. The farmers sell fruits and vegetables in season, eggs, chickens and turkeys when they have them.

Jumping Mouse Is Strong

The jumping mouse, a species widely found in temperate eastern North America from Nova Scotia to Alaska and from Virginia to James bay, is possessed of exceptional muscular strength. It leaps as much as 40 times the length of its own body or 10 to 12 feet at a bound which is comparable to a deer leaping 100 yards in one jump.

Shoe Measure Method
The length of a shoe is measured in English inches, beginning at the fourth inch. Children's shoes are rated in size from No. 1 to No. 13, graduating at a rate of one size for each additional one-third of an inch. Adults' shoe lengths start with No. 1 also, where the children's lengths end, and continue to 13.

Fox Terriers for Fox Hunting
Fox terriers were originally bred for use in fox hunting in connection with the fox hound packs. The terrier was bred to size that would enable him to squirm into the fox's den and drive the quarry out where the hounds could chase him or the hunters could bag him.

"Who put the Guest in the Baby's Crib?"

WRONG SIZE LAMP BULBS ARE MISFITS, TOO!

IT'S true! You can strain your eyes without even knowing it, when you try to read or work in light too dim for easy seeing. Scientific tests show that children especially not only strain their eyes but use up valuable energy if lamp bulbs are the wrong size. For quick easy reading or sewing without that "tired feeling," try this simple rule for good lighting: A good reading lamp by every easy chair. And at least one 100-watt Mazda lamp, or two 60's, or three 40's, in each reading lamp.
