Grades Present Annual Operetta at H.S. Auditorium Friday, Apr. 21 To Resurface with Asphalt

Now Here's the Proposition

Uncle Hank of Hills Corners Sez: Aunt Myrt Snyder sez that a lot of peepil around Glenderry jist live from one aspirin to another.

Bob Koenigshof and Frank Hamilton wuz to a soil meeting in St. Joe Monday nite where a feller told them the St. Joe River carried out 25,000 tons of dirt a day.

The Erstwhile Gardener Explains My earnest aim it used to be To raise a garden nifty, Where onion, sparrowgrass and pea Would grow in order thrifty.

But since I've tolled with hoe and hose And found out I no kin do My tasty kitchen garden grows Within a grocery window.

For after seed and water bills-- And other gardener's troubles, Instead of having vegetables I'd merely vegetabubbles.

A Story is Scuttled Boy! Oh Boy!--you'll never know how near Buchanan came to making the right hand upper corner of all the newspaper front pages of the United States and points east, north, south and west.

Here it is: He is running a classified ad this week to sell marl at 80c a ton delivered. The government through the conservation program pays 75c a ton for marl application.

"China Silk" is 1939 Selection

100 Grade School Pupils Appear in Cast

The Buchanan grade schools will present their annual operetta Friday evening, April 21, at 8 p. m. in the Buchanan high school auditorium, about 100 pupils appearing in a sparkling rendition of "China Silk."

The Story Rosemary, the daughter of a noted American artist, has just arrived in China where she meets Wee Long whom she had known well in America when Wee Long was at school there.

Wee Long and her friends explain the Chinese customs and tell her of the feast of the goddess of silkworms the Si Ling Chi. They tell her also of the approaching wedding of the princess.

As midnight strikes in the feast of Si Ling Chi, the great silk moths change into mischievous sprites, and punish Rosemary for her secret by turning her into a garden post. They are, however, a bit perturbed by her threat of what "Uncle Sam" may do to them.

By the help of the flowers all is made right; the Princess gets her wish, and she and Rosemary have a wonderful time at the feast of Si Ling Chi.

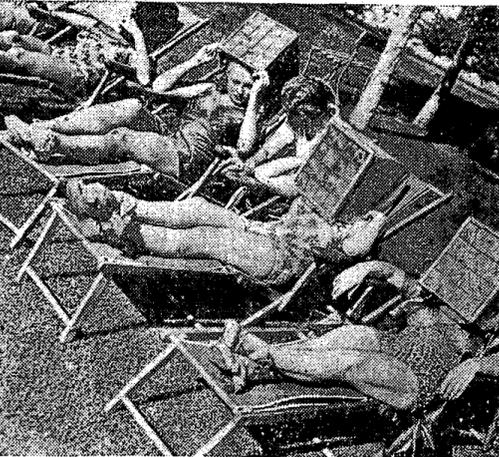

The students are all a-tingle with interest when the operetta is mentioned. With nearly 200 pupils taking part in the performance, 100 being in the operetta proper and high school art classes assisting with staging, costuming and advertising, the school is alive with information about China.

Following is the cast of characters: Rosemary, an American girl Patricia Howlett. The artist, father of Rosemary, Jack Miller.

The Princess, she spins China silk, Delores Smith. Wee Long, Charlotte Coleman. Ow Ling, Bonny Mills. Ka Ki, Charlotte Banke. Lu Li, who can "do much English," Phyllis Remberger.

Desert Sun Bathers Enlist Science

Sun bathers at Palm Springs, Calif., have enlisted the cause of science in their behalf. The boxes enclosing their heads are made from sea shells, and are said to permit only beneficial rays of the sun to pass through them, protecting the shapely bathers from an overdose of the health-giving sunshine.

With The Medal Men at Clark's

Being The Story of The Plant and Of The Men Who Built It By Building The Quality of Their Souls Into Their Work

CHAPTER 10 In the last chapter of this series I elaborated on the theory, supported by figures given me by a number of medal men, that the 1910 dollar was not so much better than the 1899 dollar as it was cracked up to be.

Of course the catch in that was that work was steady instead of jerky. Ten hours a day, sixty hours a week was the rule and you could always depend on getting a job. "No trick at all in those days," is the verdict of the medal men on job-getting in the first and second decade of the century.

There was Roy Pierce who was working on the Lake Shore railway, before he started at Celfor's in 1909. He had a vacation for two weeks to visit his wife's folks in Buchanan, Mich. off they drafted him into the shipping department at Celfor's.

There was the case of Ed Pascoe, who believe it or not, came to Buchanan from West Virginia in answer to an advertisement in a music magazine inserted by M. L. McClellan, who stated that he had a job in the drill department for anyone who could tool a mean horn.

"Seeing a bluebird" referred to the practice of the rather less or more itinerant craftsmen of that day in scattering in the spring. It was a custom to scatter and you could always depend on getting a job in the place of some fellow, who had scattered from the place you went to.

Newsboy Guest of Metropolitan Opera

George Malaiko, 54, Toronto newsboy, has frequently attracted attention by selling his papers attired in dress clothes and top hat, all set for the opera when his papers were sold. This year he lost his money in the stock market, and offered a year's subscription to anyone who would finance a trip to New York where he could hear "Don Giovanni." The trip was arranged by Edward Johnson, general manager of the Metropolitan opera, and Richard Crooks, leading member.

24,000 Tons Soil Carried by St. Joseph River Daily, Says Experts

Speakers Interpret Soil Conservation Movement at County Seat Banquet

Did you know that a string of 11,815 trucks each loaded with 2 tons of dirt and in all 45 miles long file past Buchanan daily en route to Lake Michigan to be dumped?

No? Well, they do, or words to that effect. For the dirt goes by, according to Michigan State college scientists, only it is floated down by the St. Joseph river. This result was reached by taking tests of the soil carried in suspension in samples of river water, and multiplying the soil per sample by the volume of water flow in the river.

This was the theme of a talk by Fred Bonine, state conservation specialist, at a meeting of the members of the soil conservation committees of the townships of Berrien County and their guests at the Masonic Temple at St. Joseph Monday night.

Tales of An Old Town

CHAPTER 1 ed and trembled as it never did before. There's been a question for some fore or after. The World War was time in the mind of at least one a dog fight compared with this person whether quite a few people strife of family against family, of Buchanan would not be interesting. Strange how things drop from ed in a sort of gathering up and memory. Scarcely anyone can realize interweaving of the scattered now the truth about those days.

Highway to Be Widened to 20 Ft. From M-60 to York Corners

Preliminary work has been initiated by the Berrien County road commission in widening and resurfacing the Portage Road to South Bend from M-60 at Halls corners to the O. B. York corners, according to Frank Habicht, local member of the county highway governing body.

The beginning work is being done by Buchanan and Bertram township WPA workers, who are widening the shoulders, and resodding the banks of the ditches. Crushed stone is being laid on each side of the present paving as a base for the extension of the width. The present road, now badly out of condition and inadequate for the heavy traffic over it, is of variable width, from 12 to 16 feet with ragged edges.

SUN. MON. TUES.

Historic Bell Rings in Film The mellow, liquid notes that are heard during one of the dramatic scenes in "Stagecoach," come from a church bell that has looked down upon much of America's formative western history. It was borrowed by the Walter Wanger studios from a group of Californians who have spent years collecting valued historical objects.

Strangely enough, the bell was cast in the foundries of Sitka, Alaska, when Baranoff was the "Little Czar of the Pacific." These foundries were the source of most of the bells used in the first California missions.

Wanger's production, "Stagecoach," is a United Artists release. It is a tensely drawn story of the part the stagecoach played in the formative lives of its passengers while the west was being built. John Ford directed this frontier drama with Claire Trevor and John Wayne, who co-star with the support of Andy Devine, John Carradine, Thomas Mitchell, Louise Platt, George Bancroft, Tim Holt and Berton Churchill.

Voice of the People

"Old Age Security" Money is coin, gold, or silver used as means of exchange. While the farmer calls wheat, oats and barley, coin that grows on his range; We think we can't do without either, for both is a vital need. So if we secure either, we must sow the right kind of seed. A penny will grow into dollars, and dollars will security give. While wheat, oats and other cereals, give us security to live; When old age is just 'round the corner, a peeking at us with a stare, We wonder, if our "Old Age Security" was planted with seed called care. If this seed is deep rooted, you can always pay your way. You'll find there is a welcome, when security comes to stay; Save now before old age ripens, be secure in material ways. You will see how "Old Age Security" will brighten declining days. Mrs. George Huff.

There's Extra good news in this price tag

The model illustrated is the Buick Special model 41 four-door touring sedan $996 delivered at Flint, Mich.

$894 AND UP

delivered at Flint, Mich. *Prices subject to change without notice. Transportation, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra.

THERE are a lot of things about this Buick any wide-awake-to-value buyer ought to know, but there's one important point that's worth making especially clear.

That's this: Many an item you'll pay extra for elsewhere is included in Buick's eye-opening prices!

No other car, for instance, gives you the Flash-Way direction signal for sure, clear, un-failing signaling on turns by a mere touch of a switch—a $10 item right there!

Few have locks on both front doors—or a light in the luggage compartment—or automatic electric lighters in the dash—or ash receivers as numerous and as handy.

And where else, we'd like to ask, may you have your choice of wide running boards or narrow—or get a gas-saving economy gear just for the asking?

No other car, of course, gives you the extra silkiness of the Dynaflex valve-in-head straight-eight engine—or the harnessed hurricanes in each cylinder that get more good out of every drop of gas!

None has quite the level-going comfort of the BuicOil "full float" ride—the security of Knee-Action that banks on curves plus the safety of rear springs that actually lessen skid-risks.

Naturally, it's the smart white-tie look of this Buick, its agile stepping and wide-paned outlook that are causing most of the talk.

But look into the good news about "extras"—and you'll spot this honey as the car and the value of the year even without its beauty and its brilliance!

YOU GET A BETTER USED CAR FROM A BUICK DEALER

ONLY BUICK HAS IT! This sure-fire direction signal that flashes warnings of turns at a flip of a switch! Shows day or night. Standard on all models!

Biology Notebooks Prove Attractive

Notebooks prepared in by the freshmen classes in biology show such originality in design that they could form an interesting cabinet well worth seeing. The information contained in them pertains to special subjects such as insects, fish, etc.

Dewey Avenue School

First Grade—Belle Miller
The first graders have finished all of the pages for their alphabet book. As soon as they are bound, they will take them home.

Second Grade—Miss Fritz
Charles Alsworth, Charles Simpson, Donald Coleman, Richard Strache, Marilyn Cease, and Newland Schwartz won prizes at our egg roll.

Third Grade—N. Frisvold
We have received several new specimens for our cabinet. Emily Sehn brought us sea shells and several pieces of rose coral from Florida. John Spatta brought us a branch of large, yellow pussy willows. Connie Roti's mother made a bouquet of American roses for our room. We enjoy them all.

Science Students at Notre Dame Meet

Thirty boys and girls from the high school science classes attended a meeting of the American Society for Metals at Notre Dame, Wednesday, April 12.

After the dinner (special rates for high school students) pupils saw a technical sound film, "Steel, Servant of Man" at the Engineering auditorium, followed by an address by Dr. George E. Waterhouse on "Career Possibilities in the Field of Iron and Steel." The address included a discussion of opportunities in the various fields, and the type of training necessary.

French I Books in French East

Drawings copied from French railway posters were handed in last week by the eleventh grade French class. Many of the posters were very well done, in subject matter and in beautiful places to mountains and their scenery.

FROM LOE IN INTERCLASS MEET

With a score of 14-10 the seniors proved their superiority over the freshmen last week in the interclass basketball game. But, as the score indicates, not without a struggle.

Seniors to Play Mamma's Baby Day

Polkama, for "Mamma's Baby Day" this year's senior play, began Monday under the direction of the student. The temporary cast has been chosen: Karl Dendap, John Dean, Betty, Mary Garton, Constante Kelly, Ramona Kallenberg, Barbara Schram, Dorothy Arnold, Leland George, Paul Brown, Bill Sawyer, and Winston Sands.

Grade News

Second Grade—Miss Fritz
Charles Alsworth, Charles Simpson, Donald Coleman, Richard Strache, Marilyn Cease, and Newland Schwartz won prizes at our egg roll.

Third Grade—Miss Kinsley
We were very happy to hear of some of the interesting things that boys and girls in our room did during vacation.

Fourth Grade—Mrs. Fuller
The fourth graders have changed their sand table into a seed bed. It has been blocked off into squares with little cardboard pieces, each child having his own field. It will be fun to find out whose seeds win the race coming through the sand first. Then watching the little leaves unfold will reveal more of nature's secrets. They also have a sphinx chrysalis and are eagerly awaiting its development into a moth.

Film Shows Alaskan Salmon Industries

"Alaska's Silver Millions" was the title of the film shown Thursday, April 11, in the auditorium. It described the catching, cleaning and canning of salmon as well as the mussel and the spawning places. Impressive views of glaciers, the breaking up of the ice in the Yukon River, and the formation of icebergs.

Fair Posters in Library

The library bulletin board is sporting three posters of the New York World's Fair. The posters were sent from New York to advertise the fair.

Library Club Fins are Worn

Library Club members are finally wearing their membership pins and pendants. Both are of gold-colored metal with the word "Librarian" across the top.

Teachers Uses Movies With Assignments

"I like to correlate my English work with the movie shown in the school auditorium," says Miss Cornahan, English teacher. Miss Cornahan has found that the movies give pupils ideas for interesting themes and talks, and some students enjoy finding out more facts about the subjects simply for their own personal satisfaction. She has been kept busy showing the younger pupils how to use the encyclopedias for the information desired.

Book of the Week

"The Profession of Forestry" by Arthur D. Read clears up most of the questions that might be asked of boys interested. Mr. Read tells the work that is to be done and the general occupations in the forest; the salary to be expected and the demand for trained, skillful men; and he illustrates his book with pictures taken at various logging camps.

Blossom Fete Begins April 30

First Event Opening of Blossom Festival at Hotel Whitcomb

The year's Blossom Festival will be held April 30 to May 7 in the twin cities with a calendar filled with many diversified events. Night clubs, film, beauty, and educational festivities will commemorate the blossoming of Benton County's fruit belt.

The first event of Blossom week will be the opening of the Blossom Festival at Hotel Whitcomb on April 30, at 8 p. m. Sunday. A display of three hundred pictures entered by amateur photographers of the United States and several foreign countries will compete for a fine group of awards. This exhibit will be on display during the entire week.

The first of numerous entertainment features scheduled to commemorate the fruit trees will be a pageant at the Benton Harbor high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Sunday, entitled, "Spring Heaven." The pageant, written and directed by Mrs. Adeline Nelthorpe, will be presented by a cast of the twin city and rural school children.

Blossom Time's 1939 queen and her court will spend Monday and Tuesday, May 1 and 2, in Chicago, where they will appear for a series of personal appearances and radio broadcasts. These public appearances will further the publicity of Berrien county's famous orchards and their nationally known cash-to-grower twin city market.

In keeping with the idea of something going on almost every moment throughout the entire week, head concerts and street entertainment will be held Monday evening, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons.

Monday evening, May 1, a gala night at the Armory hall will be held aside for all employees in Blossom land.

"La Traviata," an outstanding musical performance by the Chicago concert and Opera Guild, will be presented at the Benton Harbor high school auditorium on Monday night at 8:15. A repeat performance will be given Tuesday evening at the same hour.

Tuesday afternoon the attention of visitors to Blossomland will be turned toward the interesting features arranged for horticulturists. The Hon. John E. Strange, Michigan Commissioner of Agriculture, will direct the program. Featuring the event will be a dinner in the evening.

Queen's Day, Wednesday, May 3, is second only in importance to the climax of the festival, Blossom Parade Day. On Wednesday the queen's dinner will be held at Shadowland Ballroom, St. Joseph, followed by an evening of dancing and entertainment. The Queen will be crowned by some person of nationally known eminence. The nominee's name will be announced later.

Thursday, May 4, in Children's Day, when rural and city school children come to the fore to contribute their share in a one festival. At 2 p. m. the rural school children's parade will be held in St. Joseph. Miniature floats and bands present the "Big" parade in a small scale.

Looked forward to, from year to year, by the children of the county is the annual Juvenile Ball held at Shadowland Ballroom at 7 p. m. Thursday. This attracts hundreds of children under fourteen years of age. The feature of the event will be the crowning of the Bud Princess.

The little Bud Princess will have her part in publicizing Berrien county's annual Blossom Festival as she too will go to Chicago for a radio broadcast.

Following the Juvenile Ball on Thursday evening, a dance for the young folks under 21 years of age will be held at 10 p. m. at Shadowland.

Friday has been set aside as the outstanding day for fun and merriment. The always popular annual children's Pet Parade will be held in Benton Harbor Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Pets of every description and many novel conveyances and bands will hold the center of attention.

Starting from Benton Harbor and proceeding to St. Joseph the Annual Fun Parade, composed of novel and comedy floats, and marching formations, will get under way at 8 p. m. The event this year will be sponsored by the Lions club of Benton Harbor.

One of the new forms of entertainment in this year's festival will be International Night held at Shadowland after the completion of the Fun Night parade. Groups of all nationalities will be invited to participate.

Climax of the week, the Grand Floral Parade starts in Benton Harbor at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, May 6. Thirty bands, beautiful girls, gorgeous floats, and marching formations will pass along a five mile parade route.

This 17th presentation of the Blossom parade is expected to attract more than half a million visitors to this community.

"Overshadowed by the Floral farmer but to save the soul," stated one of the speakers. Parade, but none the less entertaining will be the Baton Twirler's contest - the Benton Harbor market grounds at 10 a. m. Saturday. Fifty of the finest drum majors are expected to participate.

At 1 p. m. Sunday, airplane and motorcycle sports at the Benton Harbor airport will complete Blossom Week of 1939.

Pioneer Day at Three Oaks May 30

Tentative plans have been made for the 23rd annual Pioneer Day celebration, sponsored by the Three Oaks Historical Society. The meeting will be held, as usual, on Memorial Day, May 30.

The program committee has decided to stage a debate as the main feature of the program, and will select, possibly six people to participate. The subject agreed upon is, "Resolved: That life in this century is harder than it was in the last century."

A controversial subject in any group, it is one which will create wide interest and discussion. The contestants will be of various ages, thus giving an opportunity for expression of the ideas of the young people, as well as adults, and those who are really advanced in years.

Judges will be chosen to decide upon the merits of the arguments presented, to prove whether life in this modern age is "a snap" because of the many improvements in living conditions.

Names of the debaters and other features of the program will be announced later.

The Three Oaks Historical Society of which Fred Edinger is president, is maintained through 25c memberships, and so large is the list of interested members that a large share of the cost of the Pioneer Day celebration is paid from this source of revenue. Other officers include Supt. of Schools H. B. Veneklasen, vice president; Lena VanGendern, secretary; J. A. Donner, treasurer.

New Motor Vehicle Director Named

Lee C. Richardson, a former Lansing resident has been named by Harry F. Kelly, secretary of state, to be motor vehicle director, succeeding Frank W. Carney, who has served for the past two years in this capacity. Mr. Richardson, a former member of the editorial staff of the Lansing State Journal, was in charge of the Detroit area of the Department of State under Orville E. Atwood, for several years. He has been secretary of the Detroit Real Estate Board and for the past two months has been Acting Deputy Secretary of State in the absence of James G. Frey, Deputy secretary of state, who is convalescing in a Battle Creek hospital.

Mr. Richardson brings with him to this position a thorough knowledge of his work, gained through close association with the department for a number of years.

Christian Science Churches
"Probation after Death" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 23.
The Golden Text (Psalms 23:4) is: "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil, for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Romans 8: 5-6): "For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit the things of the Spirit. For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 487): "Life is the origin and ultimate of man, never attainable through death, but gained by walking in the pathway of Truth both before and after that which is called death."

Christian Science Society
Sunday services at 11 a. m. Subject, "Probation After Death." Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. Wednesday evening meeting at 7:45.

The reading room in the church at Dewey avenue and Oak street, is open each Wednesday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock.

One hundred twenty years ago on the 26th day of April, 1819, Thomas Wildey, after making a couple of trips to England to get permission from the Manchester Lodge, tounded Oddfellowship in America at the "Seven Star" Inn in Baltimore, Maryland. This benevolent organization has flourished to where it has now approximately seven hundred lodges in Michigan with a membership of about 80,000.

In order to commemorate the anniversary of the founding of Oddfellowship in America the Buchanan and Dayton Oddfellows and Rebekahs, their families and friends, will meet in the Buchanan I. O. O. F. hall on Thursday, April 27, at 7:30 p. m. It is expected at this time to have Mr. McConehea, the grand treasurer of Indiana, for the speaker. A program, pot luck supper about 10 o'clock and dancing will follow.

On May 3, the Berrien County Oddfellow and Rebekah Association will meet in the Berrien Springs high school auditorium to celebrate the 120th anniversary of Oddfellowship in America. This meeting will be attended by several G. and Lodge and Rebekah Assembly officers. The Subordinate and Rebekah lodge from each community will jointly furnish one number on the program. This will be a big night in Oddfellowship.

Luchanan Lodge No. 75 conferred the Initiatory Tuesday, April 18th. The Initiatory will again be conferred on Tuesday, April 25 so candidates may receive the rest of the work in a class.

The Buchanan Encampment branch of the order was pleasantly surprised last Friday night by a delegation of members from LaPorte. The Buchanan Encampment will confer the Royal Purple degree on a class of candidates at LaPorte on April 28.

Don't forget the annual fish fry put on by Buchanan, Niles, and Benton Harbor Encampments. Benton Harbor will be host Thursday, April 20. Contributed.

Queen and Court To Be Entertained In Chicago

Southwestern Michigan's Blossom Queen and the girls of her court will be entertained in Chicago on Monday and Tuesday, May 1 and 2, when they will visit the middle west to visit the Blossom Festival in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor during the first week in May.

Preparations for the trip are being made by L. A. Boyd of New Troy and James Boothby of Benton Harbor.

Traveling in a motor coach, the girls of the court will have a police escort to the Hotel Sherman, which will be their headquarters for the two days. They will go to the board of trade, the Palace theatre, and other points of interest.

Two broadcasts, one on the National Farm and Home hour, another over station WLS, are scheduled, and arrangements are being made for the girls to visit the White Sox park if the weather is favorable. There they will meet and be photographed with American League baseball players.

The trip will be climaxed with a dinner dance at the College Inn with members of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity at Northwestern University as escorts.

St. Joseph to be Represented In Chicagoland Fest.

St. Joseph will be one of eight midwestern cities in which preliminaries of the tenth annual Chicagoland Music Festival will be held this summer. Arrangements for conducting the festival are going forward in charge of the St. Joseph Kiwanis club, and it will be held the afternoon and evening of Saturday, June 24, at Kiwanis field, St. Joseph.

All Michigan entrants to the music festival, within a radius of 125 miles of St. Joseph, will come to St. Joseph for the elimination. Winners will go to Chicago for the finals on August 19. The territory covered by the St. Joseph eliminations extends as far north as Muskegon and Grand Rapids, and eastward to Jackson, Lansing and Hillsdale.

Competition in the festival is in seven divisions. Adult and juvenile bands, vocal for men and women, choral work for men, women or mixed groups, violin, cornet, accordion and baton twirling for drum majors, are the classifications.

Entry in the festival is open to any amateur. An amateur is identified as a musician who does not derive a major part of his income from his musical activities.

Ten thousand spectators are expected to gather at Kiwanis field on the evening of the festival. All winners of the contests, who will be chosen in the afternoon by judges sent from Chicago, will appear at the field to perform.

One of the festival's most impressive features, the music of the massed bands, the massed choruses and the massed accordion band, also will be given at Kiwanis field.

Since the Chicagoland Music Festival was originated 10 years ago, it has grown until the many hundreds of musicians who participate have placed a strain on the facilities for handling them in Chicago, according to the sponsors.

For this reason, it was decided this year to experiment with regional eliminations contests, one of which was placed in St. Joseph.

Musicians or organizations desiring to participate may write to the Southwestern Michigan Music Festival at St. Joseph for application blanks and rules, or to M. H. Willis, 6 Central building, St. Joseph.

Other eliminations will be held in East Moline, Ill.; Whiting, Ind.; Urbana, Ill.; Cedar Rapids, Ia.; Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.; Kansas City, Mo.; and Dayton, O.

19 Four-H Members on State Honor Roll

Nineteen southwestern Michigan Four-H club members were on the state honor roll for the clubs in 1938, according to word received from state club leaders at Michigan State college.

Miss Winifred Carter of Millburg won a scholarship to the four-year course at Michigan State college, awarded by the Michigan State board of agriculture, for her food preparation project and her work during the past six years in clothing and other Four-H projects. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter.

Other Berrien county names on the honor roll were Evelyn Zech of Berrien Springs, for her complete costume in clothing, and Bertrand Molter of Coloma for the walnut desk, made as a project for fifth year handicraft.

Adrian Hendrickuma of Wayland, in Allegan county, received honors for his work in three different projects, gardening, dairying and conservation.

Other southwestern Michigan members on the honor roll were: Cass county: Hercul Cousser, Rte. 1, Niles, handicraft; Donna Frazee, Dowagiac, poultry; Isaac Hunter, Dowagiac, beef.

Allegan county: Margaret Smith, Caledonia, clothing scholarship; Victor Arndt, Hopkins, handicraft; Hollis Vander Kolk, Hamilton, dairying; Vivian Perry, Wayland, food preparation.

Van Buren county: Harriet Sandborn, Lawrence, clothing; Stanley Brower, Gobles, handicraft; Cecil Winslow, Gobles, handicraft; Russell Richmond, Watervliet, poultry; Harold Nelson, Gobles, corn; Jean Cullinan, Lawrence, canning; Marion Schleifer, Lawrence, canning.

Kalamazoo county: Theta Roof, Climax, clothing; Frank Smith, Jr., Augusta, handicraft.

The Colorado river basin includes parts of seven western states and a small area in Mexico.

Oil May Raise St. Joe Harbor Freight Tonnage

Increased Pumping in Nearby Oil Fields Likely Factor

Pumping of crude oil from wells in Allegan, Van Buren and Berrien counties may lead to an increase of tonnage from the St. Joseph harbor, in the opinion of some oil men in this vicinity.

Western Michigan oil now is transported by rail, but operators are reported to have been discussing the possibility of extending pipe lines to St. Joseph where they would connect with tankers, which would take the product to refineries at Whiting and other northern Indiana cities.

While such a development is only in the discussion stage at present, oil men say that the pipeline to the harbor may be constructed if conditions should warrant it.

At the present time, the only petroleum tonnage in the St. Joseph harbor are shipments of gasoline coming in to a large bulk plant, located on the Morrison channel nearly a mile from the harbor. A pipeline crosses the marsh from the harbor to the storage tanks and the gasoline is pumped from the ships to the tanks.

Last year 67,123 tons, or 31,815,021 gallons of gasoline came into the St. Joseph harbor. Officials of the Theisen-Clemens company said that according to present prospects, this tonnage probably will not increase materially this year unless another company should begin to ship here by water. The Theisen-Clemens company is the only gasoline distributor now using lake shipping here.

Total harbor tonnage in 1938 was 278,000 tons. It included scrap iron, stone and gravel, and coal.

There are some prospects for increase in receipts of scrap iron. Stone and gravel, it is expected, may show a decrease, as there is no extensive road building planned for this region during the year. Last year's shipments of sand and gravel were made heavier by the widening of the US-12 highway to a four-lane road between New Buffalo and St. Joseph.

Coal is one of the major harbor items. Due to the mild winter, however, it is reported that coal dealers have fairly large stocks on hand as spring comes, which may reflect in smaller shipments during the summer and fall.

Navigation was considered to have opened formally on Wednesday, March 22, with the arrival of the first gasoline tanker. There is no official opening date for the St. Joseph harbor, as it generally is open all winter except for periods of a few days at a time when unusually cold weather blocks it with ice.

The excursion steamer Theodore Roosevelt will run from Chicago to the St. Joseph harbor this year. It will land at Central docks, midway between Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, instead of the Lindenfeld dock near the Harbor mouth in St. Joseph which it has used since 1933.

Last year the Roosevelt carried more than 100,000 excursion passengers.

The Roosevelt, after docking in the St. Joseph harbor, will make a short run to South Haven, then come back to Central docks before the return trip to Chicago each day.

General business conditions and the state of the weather are factors controlling the excursion steamship business. The biggest year was during A Century of Progress in Chicago, when the Roosevelt carried 150,000 passengers.

The harbor will have to wait another year for completion of its most important major improvement, according to officials of the Twin City Port commission. The commission now has before congress a request for money with which to build a new turning basin for ships in the inner harbor.

The rivers and harbors committee of the house of representatives has approved a $74,000 appropriation for the turning basin. The appropriation awaits congressional approval, after which surveys must be made before construction work can begin. For this reason the turning basin could not be completed until sometime in 1940.

Last summer the capacity of the harbor was improved, by dredging the harbor to a project depth of 21 feet from the mouth of Central docks. The project depth previously had been 18 feet. At the same time, the navigable portion of the Benton Harbor ship canal, which leads from the harbor, was dredged from a project depth of 17 feet to 18 feet.

A. P. Sprague and Leo Anderson attended a meeting of Dodge and Plymouth dealers at Detroit Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Operetta To Be Feature of Blossom Week

An operetta in two acts, "Spring Heaven," featuring a cast of 350 children, will be one of the opening features of the 1939 Blossom Festival in the Benton Harbor high school auditorium the evening of Sunday, April 30.

Rehearsals have started in Benton Harbor and St. Joseph grade schools, and in nine rural schools, under the general direction of Mrs. Adeline Blakeslee Melkhorpe of Benton Harbor. She is assisted by a staff of seven music directors and supervisors.

The operetta was written last year by Mrs. Melkhorpe, who also composed the music and wrote the lyrics. Karl W. Schlaubach, director of instrumental music in Benton Harbor schools, is preparing orchestrations of the score.

Arriving in Buchanan they went to Celfor's and hit Oscar Fredrickson. Being new at job getting they held a council first up the railroad track from the plant and decided it might stampede the employment department if all four went in at once, so they went one at a time. Fredrickson didn't want help then, but Sam had an inspiration and asked him if he might need one later. Fredrickson said he might, and took his address. Then the boys went up town and 8 m made another Napoleonic business stroke by buying a big face valentine at Harry Blum, married to an actress. It was the day after St. Valentine's. Who got it? I don't know, maybe Fredrickson. But later in the spring when he was

Limning grapes for Charlie Washburn near Glendora he got a bird from Fredrickson saying he could report for work.

There were occasional slack times of course. There was the money panic of 1907 when Arthur Veorness and several others went to the Dakotas for the harvest. Now there are no harvest jobs in the Dakotas. Some time before that Stephen Gladwish got short of work one fall and followed a threshing machine on Terre Coupe prairie, cutting bands at $1.25 a day and found. Now there are no threshing jobs on Terre Coupe and you can find yourself.

Postscript. - In Chapter 9 in the last issue of the Record it was stated that the George R. Rich Manufacturing company moved to Buchanan in November, 1905. The year was 1904. In giving the derivation of the trade term "Celfor," the "r" was inadvertently dropped from the Latin word, "celeritas" meaning "speed." The word Celfor was a combination of the first syllables of the two Latin words, "celeritas" meaning speed and "Fortis" meaning strength.

Tales of an Old Town

to gather than there is now, so here goes and let's hope somebody reads and appreciates it!

As an old lady said to the writer in the past week, "People can't realize and next to nobody knows any more what a terrible commotion there was in Buchanan during the Civil War. Everybody was mad or scared to death; the children went about crying about what they scarcely knew, except that their folks were scared and the boys were going to war to be killed. There was hard, bitter feeling between people, and we were afraid to go along the country roads at night for fear somebody might shoot."

So it was in Buchanan. There was an honest, troubled man sticking type by hand up in the Tremont house, where the postoffice now is. He was Alonzo Bennett, Buchanan's first editor, and one of the best of the pioneers. Bennett did a great work for Berrien County, and people thought a lot of him even the hardshelled Republicans, when the flames of the war had died down so that people in a way came back to their senses.

Bennett had started as a surveyor; he laid out the old town of Bertrand in the boom days of 1837, when it had Niles on the run, in its mind at least. He laid out the town of New Buffalo when they thought they were going to get a harbor and be one of the big ports of the lake.

who staid a Democrat when the rest of them hopped over to the new Republican party in the mid-fifties. He honestly thought that the northern Abolitionists were too rantankerous, (as everyone knows they were now). He thought there could be compromise rather than war (as every competent historian of the period thinks now). With Bennett to believe was to act, and he laid down the surveyor's level and took up the printer's stick in 1850, when he thought there was yet time to bridge the gap.

So Bennett started Buchanan's first newspaper "The Vindicator," to vindicate the policies of men like Stephen A. Douglas, who died of a broken heart shortly after the war began. A man who was comparable even to Lincoln in the greatness of his mind and the intensity and honesty of his purpose, but who is forgotten because he bet on the wrong horse. Well, to get back to earth, "The Vindicator" was the town's first newspaper and the direct ancestor of the Record.

As the clouds deepened, Bennett sat in his office (I believe it was upstairs in the Tremont house) and thought and thought as the clouds deepened, making up his editorials in his head and setting them in type at the same time in the galley in his hand, while he occasionally looked abstractedly out of the window at the hogs wallowing in the mudholes at the edge of the pine plank sidewalk.

Not that the people of Buchanan were slovenly in their care of the town then. Not at all just a bit blind to their opportunities. Like they are now.

But Bennett would see the big shots of the town gathered in knots on the street corners, reading over each other's shoulders the latest edition of The New York Tribune, with another hot editorial by Horace Greeley on "The Inevitable Conflict." For Greeley's paper was the bible of the narrow North-ern-minded Michiganders in those days (funny, and he such a good Democrat too). Although Bennett hoped against hope, he really knew when he laid out all the cards in front of himself that his puny efforts to dam the conflict were like the efforts of a child making toy dams in a little sand bayou of the St. Joe. Once in a while one of those bewiskered forefathers of the town would look up from Greeley's editorial and cast a dark glance up at that upper window in the Tremont house, Bennett wasn't the sort of man to duck out of sight, but he could not help sensing the gathering danger.

Once in a while the groups about the streets would be joined by a short, black-whiskered, grizzled young fellow, George Dewey, fresh from Harvard and from a scientific trip to South America. I think his grandson is, young Tom, now raising the duce in New York City and is considered as the "white hope" of some party or other for 1940.
Young George Dewey of that day was the old block that the chip, young Tom of today, is of. He hit for the west in the early fifties, got a school somewhere in the deep woods around Buchanan but wasn't the fellow to stay put in a corner like that. In a year he was on the county board of school examiners, in two or three years he went over to Niles and started a Republican paper, "The Enquirer" right under the engaged nose of Cook, first of the Niles newspaper Cooks. Dewey was a hot spellbinder, and when he talked on the street corner, the inner lightnings gleamed out of his dynamic black eyes and every gesture showed a strong controlled force that made the scions of the First Families of Buchanan listen with sagging chins. Bennett would lean on his folded arms at the upper window and watch him, muttering "damned radical" and "black Republican" which was what they called them then. Not only out-tered the words, but turned back to the type case and picked out the letters and set them in his galley, calling him the same things in "The Vindicator" the next week. For those were the days of ferriers and very personal journalism.

Once in a while he would turn to help an alert youngster of 6 or 7 years, George Black, son of the furniture Blacks, who liked to mess around the office. Bennett liked Black and used to benevolently aid him in his type-setting play, and occasionally take him into his adjoining living rooms to dinner. That is, until Mrs. Bennett, a harried soul as the wives of reformers usually are, lost patience one day and showed the boy out. And there was another journalistic career nipped in the bud.

Then Bennett took on a nice young fellow, John Dick, already a printer of sorts, to help him. Dick was a kindred spirit a Southern Democrat who thought that the Abolitionists and the Republicans as well were black trouble-makers and war breeders. Lots of people can remember John Dick, who died only five or six years ago, as a gentle, primly dressed old man, small and always trig and neat. He came back to Buchanan when the war was over and for decades was one of the loved men of the town, in spite of

Blossom Program Filled With Many Events

Seven Day Program Finally OK'd By Blossom Committee

This year's Blossom Festival to be held April 30 to May 7 in the twin cities will feature a calendar filled with many diversified events. Eight days of fun, beauty, and educational activities will commemorate the blossoming of Berrien county's fruit belt.

The first event of Blossom Week will be the opening of the Blossom Festival Salon of Photography to be held at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, April 30, at the Hotel Whitcomb in St. Joseph. A display of three hundred pictures entered by amateur photographers of the United States and several foreign countries will compete for a fine group of awards. This exhibit will be on display during the entire week.
The first of numerous entertainment features scheduled to commemorate the blossoming fruit trees will be a pageant at the Benton Harbor high school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Sunday, entitled "Spring Heaven." The pageant, written and directed by Mrs. Adeline Nelthorpe, will be presented by a cast of the twin city and rural school children.

Blossom Time's 1939 Queen and her court will spend Monday and Tuesday, May 1 and 2, in Chicago, where they will appear for a series of personal appearances and radio broadcasts. These public appearances will feature the participation of Berrien county's own citizens and will probably know Berrien county and city residents.

In closing with the first of the week's events, the Blossom Festival will hold its grand finale on the night of Monday, May 7, at the Benton Harbor high school auditorium. A repeat performance will be given Tuesday evening at the same place.

Evans Friendship Class Has Birthday Party

Seventy attended the annual Birthday Party of the Friendship class of the Evangelical church Friday evening. They were seated according to birthdays at four tables, each representing three months of the year.

The first table was decorated in the St. Patrick motif. The committee in charge was Mrs. T. E. VanEvery, Mrs. Harry Hartline, Louis Rothfuchs and Allen Pierce. The program comprised old photographs of the members enlarged and thrown on a screen.

The second table had Maypole and June bridal decorations and at it were seated those with birthdays in April, May and June. The committee in charge included Mrs. Edward Riffler, Mrs. Nels Anderson, Mrs. Claude McGowan and T. E. VanEvery. The program included a short playlet entitled, "Trouble," presented by Raymond and Donabelle DeWitt and a song by Mrs. Lester Huff.

The table representing the third quarter of the year had decorations typifying the Fourth of July. The committee in charge was Mrs. Philip Boone and Mrs. Allen Pierce. The table for the fourth quarter was in charge of Mrs. Guy Young, Mrs. Louis Rothfuchs and Mrs. Mary Evans, and had Christmas decorations.

The third and fourth quarter tables combined to present a play "Going to Camden." The cast included Mrs. Lillian Vignansky, Mrs. Allen Pierce, Mrs. Nels Anderson, Mrs. Louis Rothfuchs, Mrs. Philip Boone and H. W. Ryan.
